SUCCESS PREDICTED FOR BILLION LOAN TO ALLIED POWERS

Bankers Familiar With Pledges Secured Say There Is Every Indication Huge Credit Will Be Floated.

MENACING PROTESTS MADE BY PRO-GERMANS

But These Protests Have Strengthened Other Banks. Pro-German Financiers in New York Resent Not Being Invited to Participate. Loan to Cover Cotton Exports.

New York, September 15.—America's billion-dollar loan to Great Britain and France seemed well on the way to actual accomplishment tonight. Bankers familiar with the pledges secured by members of the Anglo-French financial commission during their five days' stay in this country thought an announcement now that the success of the loan was assured, would be decidedly premature, but there was every indication, they said, that the commission's work had met with a degree of success that had fully equalled their expectations.

This rosy view reflected the thoughts of the men who have championed the commission's cause here and aided it by hard work. It did not coincide with the sentiments of those opposing the big loan, nor of so-called pro-German financiers here who have not been invited to meet the commissioners.

How Situation Stands.

So far as could be learned from bankers in touch with the commission and its work, the situation tonight was about as follows:

Pledges have been secured for a considerable fraction of the big loan.

Other pledges are in prospect.

So-called pro-German banking houses of New York will be invited to participate in the loan if the commission can be persuaded they are sincere in their expressions of willingness to do so.

The billion-dollar loan probably will be divided into two and possibly four separate series of equal amounts.

Bonds on which the loan will be granted will bear not less than 5 per cent interest and will be payable in dollars, free from British income tax requirements.

An attempt will be made to sell the bonds at par, in case the interest rate should be 5 per cent. Members of the commission fully believe that such bonds could be disposed of at par, but American bankers have their doubts on this score.

German Opposition.

Opposition to the flotation of the loan is country-wide among Americans of German sympathies or parentage, but has strengthened other bankers in their determination to aid in floating the loan, in the opinion of the commission's friends and has not seriously impeded the task.

The bonds are to be payable in either five or ten years. Possibly one series will mature in five and the other in ten years. This has not been decided.

It became known today that many American bankers have pledged themselves to take part of the loan. Not a hint as to the amounts was given, but there were indications that the sum totaled many millions. These promises, it was assumed, were contingent on conditions of the loan.

In nearing the intimate details of the transactions, members of the commission narrowed their conferences today to a smaller circle of financiers, which included only the most influential of the country's financial and industrial factors. Among the men known to have consulted with the commissioners are J. P. Morgan, George F. Baker, James J. Hill and Festus J. Wade.

To Care for Cotton Exports.

In much the same vein as Mr. Hill had spoken for the great wheat growers of the northwest Mr. Wade, it became known, called the commission's attention to the necessity of covering shipments of cotton with any credit loan that might be negotiated here. The prosperity of the American cotton grower of 1915, Mr. Wade thought, was wrapped up in the success of the commission. With the allies eliminated as extensive purchasers of cotton by the commission's possible failure to establish the desired credit, Mr. Wade was inclined to take a gloomy view of the situation in the southern states during the year to come.

The commision is reported as having it clear to Mr. Wade that the proposed credit loan, if obtained, would provide funds to care for cotton exports as well as every other article imported by Great Britain and France from this country.

Over night a feeling of resentment in certain financial groups in Wall street seemed to increase on the matter of participation by the so-called pro-German financiers of New York. These financiers, who constitute a formidable array of financial power, have not been invited to take part in the loan and were inclined today to feel hurt.

"In many cases," said a spokesman for this group, "the name of the firm is German and the officers all Americans, descendants of Germans, but born and reared in this country. These men are good Americans and they feel hurt that they are not permitted to share in councils of so vital interest to their country.

"They certainly will not beg to be taken in, but they would like to be shown at least the courtesy of being asked.

Members of Commission Threatened.

Opposition to the loan in some quarters has taken the form of threats against the members of the Anglo-French commission.

Members of this commission, of which Lord Reading, lord chief justice of England, is chairman, have doubled their bodyguards, it became known today. They have been requested by the police of New York not to announce their plans in advance for any day and in no instance to appear on the streets without detectives guarding them.

More than fifty threatening letters have been received by the commission. Their contents run the scale from abuse to threats against the lives of the commission. Some of the most threatening of these letters have been

Now Renfroe Says He May Ask Place Held by Woodward

His Action Contingent on Success of Recall Movement, Asserts Councilman. Free Pavement Laid in Many Wards, He States.

Councilman J. N. Renfroe, chairman of the general council street committee, and who has been dubbed by the recall workers "Mayor Woodward's Man Friday," may oppose Mayor Woodward in his race for mayor if the recall campaign is successful in removing him from office.

"I never had any ambition to be chief executive of the city of Atlanta until the recallers began their campaign," said Mr. Renfroe Wednesday. "Since they have pointed out my rare ability in putting measures through council which meant for the building up of my ward, the first, and have seen fit to give me so much publicity at no cost to me, I am now convinced that Atlanta needs me in some bigger job than that of councilman."

If Mayor Is Recalled.

Mr. Renfroe stated that he had made up his mind to offer for mayor as soon as an opening presents itself. He does not believe the opportunity will offer until next year, however, at the regular municipal election. In the event that Mayor Woodward is recalled before that time, the councilman says he will enter the race, and feels confident that he will be elected.

The last bulletin of the recall committee, published Tuesday morning in The Constitution, and which showed that Mr. Renfroe had secured, in violation of the city charter, a free pavement on Granger street, on which he resides and owns property, may get other members of council who are also active in the recall campaign in trouble.

After reading the bulletin, Mr. Renfroe asserted that the general council had passed up a batch of other resolutions for free paving in other wards. He also learned, he says, that certain members of council, also recall workers, had furnished the information about Granger street to the editor of the recall bulletins.

"I am having compiled a complete list of the papers that have been passed up by general council and which provide for free pavement," said Mr. Renfroe. "It will make very interesting reading, for it shows that free paving has been put down in nearly every one of the ten wards of the city. This means that if we have violated the law in the first ward, it has been violated in nearly every ward in the city and every member of general council is guilty of an illegal act."

Will Furnish List.

Mr. Renfroe contemplates furnishing a list of all such papers, in so far as they relate to paving, to the recall workers with the request that they publish them in the same manner in which they have dealt with him.

"As far as free paving being illegal, I don't believe that any wrong has been done in the cases we have handled," he says. "The recallers make a false statement when they say that the Granger street job was absolutely free. We assessed the abutting property owners 40 cents per front foot for that paving and the city's share came out of the streets ordinary fund of the first ward."

After Tax Dodgers.

Mr. Renfroe suggested that the recall workers furnish the city marshal with a list of the signers of the recall petitions to be used in running down tax dodgers.

"It would mean hundreds of dollars extra in our treasury if this course was taken," said Mr. Renfroe. "If they are so eager to see other people obey the law let them start their clean-up campaign at home."

Several members of general council took issue with Mr. Renfroe on his statement that free paving had been laid in nearly all of the wards.

Councilman Claude Ashley, of the fourth ward, said he defied Mr. Renfroe or any other man to prove that any free paving had been laid in the fourth.

"I will go further and give a new suit of clothes to any man who can and will prove that any free paving has been laid in the fourth in the three years I have been in council," said Mr. Ashley.

COTTON RISE IS $11.50 PER BALE SINCE JULY

Shrewd Takers in All Marts Turn Deaf Ear to Bearish Arguments.

New York, September 15.—There was a further sharp demand in the cotton market here today, with prices making new high records for the season on a continuance of the active general buying which has been in progress for the past few days. October contracts sold up to 10.88 and January to 11.38 late in the afternoon, or more than $1.50 per bale above yesterday's closing quotation, while the price for next July deliveries advanced to the 12-cent level.

The more favorable weekly report of the weather bureau inspired heavy realizing during the middle of the day, but the late advance was encouraged by reports of a higher southern spot market and apprehension that rains reported in the southwest might cause a further delay in picking.

January contracts at the high point showed advances of $11.50 per bale from the low level of last July. Prices closed firm within two or three points of the best.

New Orleans Spots 10¼ Cents.

New Orleans, September 15.—Cotton again made new high levels for the season today, middling rising 25 points to 10.25 cents a pound, while the future department closed at a net advance of 20 to 25 points, a rise of more than a dollar a bale. At the best of the session the strongest options were 25 to 28 points over yesterday's close, December at one time standing at 11.16 cents a pound.

Buying was based on small private crop estimates chiefly, although the firmness of spots had its effect. The weekly weather and crop reports were more favorable than expected, but had only passing influence against the market.

SLEW TO PREVENT PURSUIT OF WIFE, STATES CHEWNING

"All I Could See Was Future Black With Shame and Horror," Bishop's Slayer Tells Jury.

STORY BRINGS TEARS TO SPECTATORS' EYES

"Unwritten Law" Is Extolled in Three Impassioned Addresses Made by Attorneys for Defendant.

The "unwritten law" was extolled in three impassioned addresses delivered in DeKalb superior court yesterday afternoon in defense of Ezra Chewning, on trial for the death of Cosby Bishop, alleged affinity of Chewning's wife.

The defendant, in a pitiful story on the witness stand, brought tears to the eyes of scores in the courtroom, crowded by young and old men, women and children having been excluded Tuesday afternoon at the special order of Judge Charles Whiteford Smith.

At least a half dozen sturdy men quit the courtroom in tears as the slayer drew a word-picture of the happiness of his country home before the alleged invasion of the man he slew. Frequently during his narration he was compelled to halt in order to regain composure.

I HAVE TOLD THE TRUTH.

"Now, gentlemen of the jury," he said in conclusion, after he had related the circumstances that led to the tragedy last July, when he stepped into the store of his victim and, after pouring a load of buckshot into Bishop's head, emptied his pistol into the fallen body, "this is the plain, simple truth.

"I have told it to men whom I believe have wives and children of their own. I have told it to men who have homes of their own and love them as I loved mine.

"You, of course, cannot put yourselves entirely in my place, because no mortal can merely imagine the hell I have endured.

"I was maddened with grief. All I could see before my vision was the leering face of this man Bishop, who was handsome and a man who knew worldly things, while my wife was only a weak, country girl.

"I thought of the advantages he had taken of me. I thought of how happy my wife and I had been together before he came, and of the shame and misery he had brought into my home and life.

"I thought of how happy we had been when our boy was born, and of the days on the farm when we were first married. And all I could see was a future black with shame and horror.

DEATH WAS THE ONLY PAYMENT.

"The only payment of the debt was the life of Bishop. I took it that my wife might be safe from such a man as he; that my child might say, when he grew older, that his father had carried out the vow he took when he carried the girl he loved from the home of her father. That he would shield and protect her.

"I took this life because I knew, from my wife's confession, and from knowledge of Bishop's notorious reputation with married women, that if I did not slay him, he would continue to pursue her and rob me and my home of her completely.

"I was doing what you or any other man with manhood would have done.

"I was protecting my home and fireside from the vandal who had robbed me of that precious thing which no power on earth can replace."

Chewning's trial will come to an end this morning when the speeches of William Schley Howard, leading counsel for the defense, and of George M. Napier, solicitor general, and Henry Belingrath, associate counsel with the solicitor, are finished.

Chewning's sole defense is the "unwritten law." He admits the killing, but protests that he slew Bishop within a few minutes following his wife's confession.

"In this, as in all other cases of its kind," said Attorney L. J. Steele, associate counsel for the defense, in his argument to the jury, "when a man begins to grow intimate with a woman there is something that tells it to the world. A man can't keep his intimacy hidden.

CRIME WILL OUT.

"When a man and woman are drawn illicitly together, there is a telepathic influence that exposes their crime. It was thus in the Bishop case. He and Mrs. Chewning got so far with secrecy—and no further. It will ever be thus.

"This crime came to the surface, and the inevitable ensued, just as has happened since civilization's dawn, and will continue as long as man exists on the face of earth. It happened in Biblical days, and the law sanctioned it. Jacob's sons, who murdered when their sister was defiled, were taken into the bosom of their father, and they prospered throughout the remainder of their lives.

"Ezra Chewning was not only within the law in shooting Bishop; he was guided by the law of mankind that has sheltered and guarded the hearthstone since the birth of Christ, a law that is written plainly, and is as enduring as the hills. The man who invades the sanctity of the home is destined to die, and that is just as it should be.

"The act of Chewning in taking vengeance upon the desecrator of his home deserves the approval of a court of justice—not punishment.

"If you convict in cases of this kind, you destroy the guardianship of the home. Leave the home unprotected, and every phase of life is hurt."

A similar argument was advanced by Paul Lindsay, associate counsel for the defense, who argued that "an eye for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth" was the doctrine that applied to the Chewning-Bishop triangle.

PROUD OF GEORGIANS.

"The old Biblical policy should guide us. We are too weak to observe the lowly Nazarene doctrine, 'Turn the other cheek.' Our laws demand 'an eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth.'

"Outside papers of the world say that Georgians are semi-barbarous and have

Unique Presentation of the State's Resources, Historical Places and Beauty Spots Will Attract People From All Over the State.

Thousands of Georgians, some of them from hundreds of miles away, are coming to Atlanta to attend the big meeting at the Auditorium-Armory tonight at 8 o'clock for the purpose of seeing the six reels of Georgia motion picture, and launching the big 3-year campaign for publicity of Georgia industries, resources, and activities in agriculture and commerce. More than one thousand people will reach the city today on an Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic excursion from South Georgia, many coming from spots where portions of the picture were taken.

Atlantans are generally in the front when it comes to boosting the city and state, and tonight they will have another change to confirm Atlanta's reputation for a moving spirit that takes hold of big enterprises and impels them vigorously on to a brilliant and successful consummation. What they are expected to do (or, rather, what they will do, for every man, woman and child of the city must be deeply interested) is to pack the big Auditorium-Armory to the bursting of the doors tonight.

What is to be shown is not a lot of dry details spread out over 6,000 feet of films, but a vivid, interesting, moving picture of the throbbing vital activities of the state.

An Inspiring Picture.

Looking at those pictures, as the scenes change, from the state capitol in Atlanta, to the old executive mansion in Milledgeville; from the quarries of slate and granite, to the fertile farm lands and fruit-landen orchards, and from the quiet villages to the rush and hurry of "Five Point," looking at all this you will feel a truer emotion—a thrill of patriotism—which no screen actor or actress, however daring or beautiful, could inspire.

It is neither a photo-drama nor a comedy, but the true historic record of an active and industrious people.

It is a big feature, in six reels, acted by the state of Georgia, under the direction of the State Chamber of Commerce, and is to be released to the largest movie crowd ever assembled in Atlanta. After it has been shown in every city and town in this commonwealth, it is to be sent all over America and will eventually be seen by millions, who will learn of the energies at work among us, and recognize the justness of the title, "The Empire State of the South."

Some of the Scenes.

The audience of tonight will be taken on a tour conducted by the movie man—a guide who has passes where others have none. The main title will flash on the screen "Georgia, the Empire State of the South," then will appear successively: The capitol, the governor, the general assembly, the old executive mansion at Milledgeville, the asylum, the state prison, the prison farm, the Georgia agricultural experiment station, the State Normal and Industrial school, the university and the agricultural college at Athens, the $1,000,000 courthouse of Atlanta, built without issuing bonds, the malestrom of traffice at Five Points, panoramic views of Fulton county, the Fulton county reformatory, the exhibit cars

MURRAY CO. BOARD IN DURANCE VILE

Declare They'll Rot in Their Own Jail Before They Give In on Courthouse Proposition.

Chatsworth, Ga., September 15.—(Special.)—Murray county's commissioners of roads and revenues, on an order from Judge A. W. Fite's court, are tonight prisoners here in the nice new jail which they have just completed. Furthermore, they state that they will stay there until they rot, if necessary, rather than surrender their convictions as to the proper location for the county courthouse.

The commissioners are not downhearted over their incarceration. Far from it. "Business as usual" is their slogan, for they declare they will conduct the county's affairs decorously and efficiently from their novel headquarters.

Arrest Causes Excitement.

Excitement prevailed when Sheriff B. H. Wilbanks brought the board members into town today and locked them up until further orders from the court, but things calmed down by evening.

Judge Fite holds that the county board is in contempt of his court by levying taxes to build the new courthouse at Chatsworth and ordered that the levy be rescinded or the board jailed till further orders. The commissioners, deeming that they had acted within the bounds of their office, permitted the sheriff to imprison them. How long they will remain in jail is for the court to decide, and no one seems to know what the term of their punishment will be.

The court has also instructed the editor of The Chatsworth Times to discontinue the advertising of the levy in this week's issue of the paper.

Bond Is Refused.

Commissioners D. R. Dunn and T. M. Hemphill and County Attorney Jesse M. Sellers, with Attorney John L. Tye, of Atlanta, their counsel, appeared before Judge Fite at Cartersville last night for the purpose of suing out a bill of exceptions to the order issued by the court confining them in the county jail for the violation of an injunction. Application was made to be allowed to give bond, and also to grant a supersedeas, both of which the court declined to do. Thereupon the commissioners and Mr. Sellers left to join Commissioner McGee at Chatsworth and remain in jail until further order of the court.

The commissioners contend that they have violated no injunction and are within their rights as county commissioners in levying a tax and advertising the same, according to law, and that the original controversy grew out of a difference of opinion between the court and the commissioners over the location of the courthouse, which was planned by an architect employed for the purpose.

COUNCILMEN FAVOR MOVE TO POSTPONE ELECTION ON BONDS

BONDS CERTAIN TO LOSE SEPT. 30, SAYS FARLINGER

Fully 3,000 Voters on Registration Lists Either Dead or Out of City Now, Asserts the Mayor.

There is now but little doubt that the city council will, when it meets next Monday afternoon, vote to postpone the bond election.

This can be done, according to the opinion of City Attorney James L. Mayson, by the council repealing the ordinance advertising the election. This will have the effect of canceling the call for the election.

Next spring or some time early next year council can set another date for the election when there can be a special registration and a campaign for the bond election can be organized.

Members of council who voted for the election to be held on September 30, the date of the city primary, have now indorsed the position taken by The Constitution, and will vote for a postponement of the election next Monday.

Mayor Is for Postponement.

Mayor Woodward unqualifiedly approves the editorial in Wednesday morning's Constitution and says that The Constitution "never took a wiser step for the city's interests and welfare."

The chairman of the finance committee of council, a committee that fixes all the city's appropriations, and the acting chairman of the tax committee, which fixes the city's income from taxation, both indorse what The Constitution has said and will vote for a postponement of the election.

Other members of council believe that to hold the bond election on September 30 will mean certain defeat, and will join in a movement to hold the election early next year.

If a vote is forced at this time, say councilmen, and the bonds are defeated, it will be difficult to carry bonds for some time to come.

When asked what he thought about postponing the bond election, Mayor Woodward said:

Means Defeat, Says the Mayor.

"I don't think The Constitution ever did a wiser or more beneficial thing for the best interests of the city than when it published that editorial calling upon council to hold the bond election at some later date. I said before council ever acted that it would not be wise to force an election at this time. There are fully 3,000 voters on the registration list who are either out of the city or dead, and every one of these votes will be counted against bonds.

BOLT NEARLY SHOT BY THE GERMANS, SAYS KITCHENER

Earl Tells Lords That Advance of the Invaders Has Almost Been Stopped in Russia.

MARVELOUS RESPONSE TO CALL FOR RECRUITS

Kitchener Greatly Pleased by Manner in Which Britons Have Enlisted—British Front Is Extended in France.

London, September 15.—"The Germans appear almost to have shot their bolt," said Earl Kitchener, secretary for war, today. "Their advance in Russia, which at one time averaged five miles a day, now has diminished to less than one mile a day."

Earl Kitchener's statement was made in a review of the war in the house of lords.

"The response of the country to calls for recruits has been little short of marvelous," he said, "but the problem how to insure the field force being kept at full strength is engaging our close attention and will, I hope, soon receive a practical solution. I do not for one instant doubt that whatever sacrifice may prove necessary will be undertaken cheerfully by our people."

This was the only portion of Earl Kitchener's speech which might be regarded as a reference to the possibility of conscription.

Regarding Military Operations.

Regarding military operations, the war secretary said:

"For the last few months the front held by the allies in the west has been practically unchanged. This does not mean that there has been relaxation of active work on the part of the forces in the field, for the continuous local fighting which has taken place all along the line has called for the display of incessant vigilance.

"Meanwhile, our positions have been much strengthened, not only by careful elaboration of the system of trench fortifications that already existed, but also by a large increase in the number of heavy guns which have been placed along our lines.

"The Germans recently on several occasions used gas and liquid fire, and have bombarded our lines with asphyxiating shells, but those forms of attack, lacking as they now do the element of surprise, have failed in their object and lost much of their offensive value owing to steps taken by us to counteract the effect of these pernicious methods."

New Armies Praised.

"As new armies have become trained and ready to take the field considerable reinforcements have been sent out to join Field Marshal French's command. You will be glad to hear his opinion of these troops, communicated to me. He writes: 'The units appear to be thoroughly well officered and commanded. The equipment is in good order and efficient. Several units of artillery have been tested behind the firing line in the trenches, and I hear very good reports of them. Their shooting has been extremely good and they are quite fit to take their place in the line.'

"These new divisions have now had the opportunity of acquiring by experience in actual warfare that portion of the necessary training of soldiers which it was impossible to give them in this country and which, once acquired, will enable them effectively to take their place in line with the rest of the British army.

"With these additional reinforcements, amounting to eleven divisions (about 210,000 men), Sir John French has been able to extend his lines and take over from the French approximately 17 miles of additional front.

Gains by the French.

"Throughout the summer months the French have held their own along their extended line of the front, and in some places, notably near Arras and in Alsace, have made substantial progress. In the struggles around Arras early in June they captured whole heights at Norte Dame de Lorette, as well as a number of strongly fortified villages around this high ground, thereby securing an area of great tactical importance, in view of the future operations. In Alsace a number of dominating eminences have been wrested from the enemy and have been substantially held in the face of formidable counter attacks. One particularly commanding summit which overlooks the left bank of the Rhine in this quarter, and which had been the scene of continuous encounters for many months, after changing hands many times, rested finally in possession of our allies."

"French trenches along the entire front have been developed and strengthened, and now everywhere present a network of almost impregnable fortifications. Of this I was able to satisfy myself during a visit lately to our allies, at the invitation of General Joffre, when I was profoundly impressed with the high state of efficiency and morale of the French army. It was evident that officers and men recognized that the only possible termination to the war was to inflict on the enemy a thorough defeat. Their resolution to do this was never firmer or more intense.

"Our allies' air craft have been particularly active. They have carried out numerous effective raids on a large scale, penetrating far into hostile territory.

Situation on Russian Front.

"Turning to the eastern theater: The enemy, taking advantage of their central position, since early in June, have been employing a very large proportion of their forces in strenuous efforts to crush our Russian ally. In prosecuting these operations, which we all have followed closely, the Germans, in addition to their great numerical superiority, developed vastly preponderating artillery, which enabled them to force the Russians form their defenses. The German objective was evidently to destroy the Russian army as a force in being, and thus set free their troops for action elsewhere; but, as in the case of many other plans arranged by the German staff during this war, there has been a signal failure to carry out the original intentions.

"In the history of this war few episodes stand out more prominently, more creditably, than the masterly manner in which the Russian forces, distributed along a line of 750 miles, have been handled while facing violent assaults from an enemy greatly superior in numbers, especially of guns and munitions. The success of this great rear guard action had been rendered possible by the really splendid fighting qualities of the Russian soldier, who, in every case where actual conflict has taken place, has shown himself infinitely superior to his adversary. These fighting qualities of the Russian army empowered her able generals and competent staff to carry out the immensely difficult operation of retirement of the whole line over some 100 to 200 miles, without allowing the enemy to break through at any point or by surrounding their forces to bring about a tactical position which might have involved surrender of a considerable portion of the Russian army.

Russian Army Intact.

"Thus we see the Russian army remaining today intact as a fighting force. It doubtless has suffered severely from the hard fighting to which it had been subjected during recent months, but the German forces also had to pay a heavy toll for their advance into Russia, and who will venture to say until the present grips are relaxed which armies suffered more?

"It must not be forgotten that Russia, with her vast territory, always has been able ultimately to envelop and annihilate large invading armies. In this she certainly is no less capable today than she was a century ago. As regards the net result, all that the Germans can place to their credit is that at an enormous sacrifice they have captured certain fortresses. But our recent experience shows that the best fortifications, and practically the only ones that can effectively resist the new machinery of war, are those which can be quickly dug deep in the soil. Such trenches today form better defenses than the most carefully fortified places of which the engineers until lately were so proud.

"The Germans appear almost to have shot their bolt. Their advance into Russia, which at one time was carried out at an average daily rate of approximately five miles, has now diminished to less than one mile a day, and we see the forces which they boastingly described as defeated and broken troops flying before them, still doggedly and pluckily fighting along the whole line and in some places, indeed, turning on the jaded invaders and inflicting losses."

"The Russian army, far from falling out of the fighting lists as Germany fondly hoped, is still a powerful and undefeated unit, and the determination and confidence of the troops, fortified by the increasing supply of munitions, have risen in proportion to the strain imposed upon them. In this momentous hour of stress his imperial majesty, the czar, has taken executive command of his armies in the field. The enthusiasm created by his step will serve to concentrate all the energies of his officers and men on driving back the invaders and preventing them from reaching any vital portion of the empire.

"To sum up, we may fairly say that while the Germans have prevailed by sheer weight of guns and at immense cost to themselves in forcing back the Russian front, nothing but barren territory and evacuated fortresses have been gained. Thus their strategy has clearly failed, and the victories they claim may only prove, as military history has so often demonstrated, to be defeat in disguise."

Italy's Part in War.

Dwelling on Italy's part in the war, Earl Kitchener said:

"The achievements of the Italian artillery have been truly remarkable and the manner in which heavy pieces were hauled into almost inaccessible positions on lofty mountain peaks and in spite of great difficulties evokes universal admiration. The Italian army now occupies strategic positions of first-rate importance. The gallant conduct of the infantry of the line in action has impressed upon their enemies the great military value of the Italian army, while the bold feats of Alpine troops and Bersaglieri when scaling rugged mountains sides were marvelous samples of successful enterprise.

At the Dardanelles.

"On the Gallipoli peninsular during operations in June several Turkish trenches were captured and our own lines appreciably advanced and our positions consolidated.

"Considerable reinforcements have arrived. A surprise landing on a large scale at Suvla Bay was successfully accomplished on the sixth of August without any serious opposition.

"At the same time an attack was launched by the Australian and New Zealand corps from the Anzac position and a strong offensive was delivered from Cape Helles in the direction of Krithia. In this latter action French troops played a prominent part and showed to high advantage their usual gallantry and fine fighting qualities.

"The attack from Anzac, after a series of hotly contested actions, was carried to the summit of Sari Bair and Chunuk Bair, dominating positions in this area. The arrival of transports and the disembarkation of troops at Suvla bay was designed to enable troops to support this attack. Unfortunately, however, the advance from Suvla bay was not developed quickly enough and the movement forward was brought to a standstill after an advance of about two and one-half miles.

"The result was that the troops from Anzac were unable to retain their position on the crest of the hills and after being repeatedly counter attacked they were ordered to withdraw to positions lower down. These positions have been effectively consolidated and, now joining with the line occupied by the Suvla bay force, form a connected front of more than twelve miles.

"From the latter position a further attack on the Turkish entrenchments was delivered on the 21st, but after several hours of sharp fighting it was not found possible to gain the summit of the hills occupied by the enemy and the intervening space being unsuitable for the defense, the troops were withdrawn to their original position.

Gallantry of the Colonials.

"Since then comparative quiet has prevailed and much needed rest has been given to our troops.

"In the course of these operations the gallantry and resourcefulness of the Australian and New Zealand troops frequently has formed the subject of eulogy in General Hamilton's reports.

"It is not easy to appreciate at their full value the enormous difficulties which have attended the operations in the Dardanelles or the fine temper with which our troops have met them.

"There is now abundant evidence of a process of demoralization having set in among the German-led, or rather German-driven, Turks, due, no doubt, to their extremely heavy losses and to the progressive failure of their resources. It is only fair to acknowledge that, judged from a humane point of view, the methods of warfare pursued by the Turks are vastly superior to those which have disgraced their German masters.

"Throughout the co-operation of the fleet has been intensely valuable, and the concerted action between the sister services has been in every way in the highest degree satisfactory.

Of the fighting in Mesopotamia, Earl Kitchener said reconnaissances had shown that the Euphrates was clear of Turks for a distance of 60 miles.

"Since this victory," he added, "there has been no further fighting on the Euphrates, Tigris or Karun rivers. Climatic conditions in this theater of war have rendered the operations extremely arduous."

New British Armies.

"As I have informed your lordships some of the new armies we have prepared and equipped for the war are already in the field, and others will quickly follow them. The response of the country's calls for recruits to form these armies has been little short of marvelous, but it must be borne in mind that the provision of men to maintain the forces in the field depends to a great degree on a large and continuous supply of recruits.

"The provision to keep up their strength during 1916 has caused an anxious thought, which has accentuated and rendered more pressing by the recent falling off in the numbers coming forward to enlist, although every effort has been made to obtain our requirements under the present system.

"I am sure we all fully realize that the strength of the armies we are sending out must be fully maintained to the very end. To fulfill this purpose we shall require a large addition to the numbers of recruits joining. The problem of how to secure an adequate supply of men and thus insure the field force being kept up to its full strength is engaging our close attention and will. I hope, very soon receive a practical solution.

"The returns of the registration act, which will shortly be available, will no doubt give us the basis on which to calculate the resources of the country and to determine the number of men available for the army after providing for the necessary services of the country as well as those of our munition works.

"Whatever decision may be arrived at in the full light of the facts before us must undoubtedly be found on military requirement for the prosecution of the war and the protection of our soldiers, and will be the result of an impartial inquiry as to how we can most worthily fulfill our national obligations.

"Although there has been a falling off in the number of recruits, I do not draw from this fact any conclusion unfavorable to the resolution and spirit of the country. On the contrary, I think now, as I always have thought, that the manner in which all classes have responded to the call of patriotism is magnificent, and I do not for one instant doubt that whatever sacrifices may prove necessary to bring this gigantic war to a successful conclusion will be cheerfully undertaken by our people."

"There's something in this world besides money." "Yes," said the cynic; "there the poorhouse."—Detroit Free Press.

$1,250,000,000 VOTED BY BRITAIN

To Carry on War—This Makes Total of $6,310,000,000—Premier Asquith Makes Statement to Commons.

London, September 15.—Premier Asquith in the house of commons today, moved a vote of credit of £250,000,000, or $1,250,000,000. This is the seventh since the outbreak of the war, bringing the total to $6,310,000,000. The premier announced that from July 18 to September 1, the daily expenditure for the war had been £3,500,000.

The credit was voted by the commons.

Premier Asquith announced that an aggregate of nearly 3,000,000 men had enlisted since the beginning of the war.

Growing Expenditures.

The premier made this statement in reviewing the financial and military situations, so far as military exigencies permitted; but this requirement necessitated in many instances only vague references to the trend of events.

The growing expenditures for the war were emphasized by the premier. He said the average daily cost from April 1 to the end of June was £2,700,000. From July 1 to 17, £3,000,000; from July 18 to September 11, £3,500,000. Thus the total for this period in round figures is £500,000,000. There has been repaid £50,000,000 to the Bank of England, £30,000,000 had been lent to foreign governments and £28,000,000 lent to the dominions.

Comparing actual expenditures since the last vote of credit with estimates, Mr. Asquith said there had been some abnormal items to disclose which would not be in the public interest, but the house might take it that these were expenditures incurred for the purpose of financing necessary operations. Part of this amount was to be repaid in a few months, and the remainder represented advances for future expenditures.

What Britain Is Doing.

Mr. Asquith estimated that the weekly gross expenditures henceforth would not exceed £35,000,000. It was his opinion that the new vote would carry the country through to the third week of November.

"These figures threw some light, in many terms, on the contribution we are making to the war," he continued. "I do not wish to say even that we are doing all we can, all we ought, but as attempts are constantly being made—with whatever intention, but with the most mischievous effect—to belittle and discourage our efforts, I give some comparisons between peace and war figures.

"Since the outbreak of the war, it will be found an aggregate of not far short of three millions has enlisted in the army and navy. Recruitng, on the whole, has kept up well, but, I regret to say, in the last few weeks has been falling off."

The premier said all that was now necessary to complete the work of the munitions department was an adequate supply of labor, unskilled quite as much as skilled. There was no field wherein women could do more useful work. The minister of munitions has established twenty shell factories, and eighteen more were in course of construction. In all, 715 controlled establisments were under the department. In these factories, he said, 800,000 workmen were employed.

The Military Situation.

Reviewing the military situation, Mr. Asquith stated that in France and Flanders the position of the British troops had been strengthened everywhere by large reinforcements of men and munitions, and that there had been a considerable extension of lines taken over from the French.

In the Dardanelles, he continued, the British had made substantial gains, though they had not succeeded in dislodging the Turks from the crest of the hills. The British now hold a front of more than twelve miles.

In the east, Mr. Asquith said, the Russian army remains unbroken. He asserted that the superiority of the Germans was only in artillery and that their objective was still far out of reach.

"They succeeded in forcing back the line of our gallant ally and taking several fortresses," he continued, "but all accounts shows that the Russian retreat is being conducted in masterly fashion and that the Russian army is still unbroken. The assumption of supreme command by the czar is the most significant proof that could be given of the unalterable determination, from highest to lowest, of the Russian people."

Britain's Loan to Allies.

Mr. Asquith said that the total of Britain's loans to other belligerents was £250,000,000.

He referred to the high total of casualties and said the proportion of those who recovered from wounds was large.

"This is a war of mechanicism, organization, endurance," he continued. "Victory seems likely to incline to the side that can arm itself best and stay longest. That is what we mean to do."

The premier deprecated all recrimination.

"Our business is to deal with the present, and forecast and provide for the future," he said. "We have satisfied the legitimate requirements and hopes of our allies, and we have to discharge the unique burden imposed upon a family of free people by our own sense of responsibility and our standard of duty and sacrifice."

Deprecates Domestic Strife.

One thing Mr. Asquith opposed was "the sinister spirit of domestic strife."

"We must all be ready to give and take, and take and give," he said, "and it must not be said that in the greatest moment of our history our arm was shorn of its strength by any failure on the part of either rulers or ruled to concentrate upon the unexampled task the consentient counsels, undivided energies and unbreakable, indomitable will of the British people.

"The situation is a testing one. A survey of the past year calls satisfaction at the great efforts and sacrifices made, and for regret that some mistakes and miscalculations have been made. Today we realize more clearly, through the mists of sophistry and mendacity in which Berlin seeks to obscure and defoul the international atmosphere, the sincerity of our own diplomacy and the passionate love of peace wherewith we sought to avert the catastrophe of a world-wide conflict.

"It was the imperious call of duty which forced us to vindicate our national honor and enlist our whole strength in the sacred cause of freedom. I have no doubt either of the wisdom of our choice or of its ultimate triumph on the stricken field."

NEWMAN ERB TAKES POISON BY MISTAKE

Deal, N. J., September 15.—Newman Erb, of New York, railroad builder and financier, is critically ill at his summer home here. Physicians said that while on his way here from New York yesterday he took poison by mistake for headache medicine. It was feared tonight that he might not recover.

Mr. Erb is president of the Minneapolis and St. Louis railroad, and a prominent figure in railroad affairs.

NO REPORT BY DUMBA HAS REACHED AUSTRIA

Vienna Claims to Lack Official Knowledge of the Recall Episode.

Vienna, September 14.—(By Courier to Berlin, via London, September 15.)—Even now no admission can be obtained in any government quarters that anything more is known about the United States request for the recall of Dr. Constantin Theodore Dumba, the Austro-Hungarian ambasador at Washington, than is printed in Swiss, French and German newspapers reaching here.

It appears to be a fact that no report of any nature has yet been received from the ambassador himself, nor has Frederick C. Penfield, the American ambassador, received Secretary of State Lansing's note requesting Dr. Dumba's withdrawal.

The first news Mr. Penfield received concerning the situation was contained in foreign newspapers. Austria is so cut off from the outside world that it is doubtful whether Dr. Dumba's report can be received other than by means of a messenger, which indicates that at least a fortnight of waiting will result.

Conversations with various persons in a position to speak strengthen the impression already reported by the Associated Press that the Austro-Hungarian government evidently desires to avoid anything which would lead to the belief that the Dumba matter signifies anything aprpoaching an actual political issue or as likely to have any effect on the reltations between Austria and the United States.

The persons interviewed pointed out a great number of precedents where the recall of diplomatic representatives had been requested or even demanded by the government to which they were accredited and that such incidents had never led to any interruptions of pleasant relations between the governments or even been considered as raising an issue of any nature.

In the absence of a detailed report on Dr. Dumba's activities there is an inclination here to believe that he merely did his duty in warning his countrymen of the possible penalties to which they subjected themselves by assisting in the making of munitions for the allies.

Note Received, Says Washington.

Washington, September 15.—Secretary Lansing's note asking for the recall of Dr. Dumba was cabled a week ago today to American Minister Stovall at Berne, Switzerland, to be forwarded to Ambassador Penfield at Vienna. A delay of 24 hours or more in delivery was expected, and the fact that Mr. Penfield has not yet acknowledged receipt of the message has occasioned no surprise.

Officials said tonight that the note must have been received in Vienna several days ago.

CONFINED TO BED, ARMY LIEUT. CANNON WEDS MISS NESBIT

Mobile, Ala., September 15.—Confined to his bed at a local infirmary recovering from the effects of an operation for appendicitis, Lieutenant Fenelon Cannon, of the United States coast artillery corps, stationed at Fort Morgan, near Mobile, was married tonight to Miss Marjorie Nesbit, of Washington.

Lieutenant Cannon was stricken with appendicitis last Friday and underwent an operation Saturday. Following an exchange of telegrams, Miss Nesbit, who is said to be prominent socially in Washington, came to Mobile and the wedding ceremony was performed at the groom's bedside by an Episcopal minister of this city.

WILSON IS STUDYING REPORTS ON DEFENSE

Washington, September 15.—President Wilson today began a detailed study of preliminary reports on national defense submitted by Secretaries Garrison and Daniels. He is paying particular attention to the probable cost of strengthening the army and navy.

A decision on just what increases and changes in the military and naval establishment shall be recommended to congress will not be reached by the president until he had received further reports from department heads and has conferred with the chairman of the military and naval affairs committees of the senate and house.

VERDICT OF NOT GUILTY FOR 18 ACCUSED TEXANS

Corpus Christi, Texas, September 15. Federal Judge Waller T. Burns today ordered a verdict of not guilty returned in the cases of eighteen of the forty-one Nueces county officials and citizens on trial in United States district court here on charges of conspiracy to corrupt the 1914 general election. Dismissal of the charges was proposed by attorneys for the prosecution who admitted that the evidence submitted was insufficient to connect the eighteen men with the alleged election fraud.

The taking of testimony was concluded late today and the cases of the other twenty-three men probably will be given to the jury tomorrow afternoon.

Claude Fowler, chief of police of Corpus Christi; M. B. Wright, sheriff, and Joseph Bluntzer, county assessor, were among the men relieved of the charges today.

BIG CARTRIDGE PLANT HAMPERED BY STRIKE

Lowell, Mass., September 15.—Labor troubles at the plant of the United States Cartridge company here resulted today in the closing of all but the machine and sheet steel departments. Of the 5,000 employees only about 500 were left at their work.

The men demand a 15 per cent wage increase, an 8-hour working day and the abolishment of night work on Sundays. The women demand an 8-hour day also and a wage increase of 20 per cenet.

Recently the company has been employing 5,000 operatives in three shifts seven days a week. It is understood large orders have been received from the allies.

ARABIC EVIDENCE ON WAY TO BERLIN

German Answer Will Shape Next Move by the United States--Bernstorff Expects an Amicable Adjustment.

Washington, September 15.—Ambassador Gerard has been instructed to present to the German foreign office a summary of evidence gathered by the United States and accepted here as conclusive proof that the White Star liner Arabic was torpedoed without warning, causing the loss of two Americans.

Secretary Lansing, making this announcement today, made it clear that no representations or expression of opinion by the American government had been made in the communication. The viewpoint of the United States and its position on the principles involved were stated informally to the German ambassador, who then communicated with Berlin.

The outcome of these two steps—examination by the German foreign office of the evidence and receipt by Berlin officials of Ambassador Bernstorff's suggestions—is waited before Washington's next move is determined.

The general expectation is that possibly two weeks will elapse before Berlin's decision is made known.

State department officials, commenting today on the disclaimer of the Berlin government that the Canadian liner Hesperian was torpedoed, said that insufficient evidence had been received upon which to base representations to Germany at this time. From the facts at hand, it was said, no opinion could be formed as to whether the Hesperian was torpedoed or struck a mine.

Officials reports have made no reference to statements of passengers on the liner that large pieces of metal were found on the decks of the vessel which might furnish evidence to determine whether the ship was the victim of a mine or a torpedo. If it should be determined that the Hesperian struck a mine, officials say there would be no means of fixing responsibility.

OPTIMISTIC VIEW BY VON BERNSTORFF.

New York, September 15.—Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, believes difficulties between the United States and Germany will be settled within a fortnight, he told newspaper men here today. The ambassador was just back from Washington. Seen at his hotel he said:

"Ordinarily I give only prepared interviews over my signature. Today I shall make an exception. You may say for me that I am sure that within a fortnight all supposed difficulties between the United States and Germany will have been settled, and permanently settled, and the nations will be more friendly than they ever have been."

Count von Bernstorff added that he felt gratified over the outcome of his conference with Secretary Lansing.

Later the ambassador amplified the statement, saying: "In my opinion everything as regards the situation between the United States and Germany will be settled within a fortnight. I do not expect to have anything more to say with reference to this matter in the next two weeks."

Count von Bernstorff discussed the sinking of the British steamer Hesperian, insisting that his first claim as to what caused the ship to go down had been verified, despite what he called "the suspicion of the American people about that ship."

The ambassador emphasized the fact that under present conditions exchanges of communication with his government were necessarily a tedious proceeding and he added that it was due to this fact that he fixed the time for a settlement at two weeks.

WILSON PRAISED BY GERMAN EDITOR.

Berlin, September 15.—(Via London.) In the German government's explanation of the Hesperian case Germania sees the way made clear for "President Wilson's ultimate position regarding the German note concerning justification for the sinking of the Arabic." The newspaper declares that the British press must give up its hopes of serious differences between Berlin and Washington. It praises President Wilson for having refused to be influenced by British reports of a new menace to German-American relations, which had just been guided into a more peaceful channel, and adds:

"The president's cool, self-containment is now justified. The British tissue of lies is at last torn to pieces, and if anything remains of the entire question of responsibility for the misfortune it probably will rest immediately, as we expected, on one of Britain's excellent anchored mines."

BALLOTS WERE BURNED WITHOUT BEING COUNTED

Indianapolis, September 15.—Two state's witnesses at the trial today of Mayor Joseph E. Bell, charged with election conspiracy, told how a part of the democratic ballots cast in one precinct at the primary election of May 5, 1914, were burned without being counted. Both of the witnesses, John W. Lee and Charles H. Gibbs, negroes, were indicted in the case and have pleaded guilty.

Lee was an election inspector and Gibbs was an election judge. Lee said that they burned the ballots after James H. Gibson, who already has pleaded guilty to frauds, came to the polling place and took the ballots from the counters.

"It will take you all night to count these, let me do it," Lee testified Gibson said. He declared Gibson put the tallies down to suit himself, then gave Lee and Gibbs the ballots to be burned.

Lee and Gibson supported Ed Lyons, candidate for the democratic nomination for county treasurer, who also was favored by Bell.

Comedian Williams Dead.

London, September 15.—Arthur Williams, the comedian, died at his home here tonight. He was born in London December 9, 1844, and made his first appearance on the stage in 1851. On completion of his fifty years upon the stage in 1911, Williams had played over 1,000 parts.

WHOLESALE KILLING BY VILLA'S ORDERS

Gen. Urbina and 14 Staff Officers Executed—Fierro Supervised Killing.

El Paso, Texas, September 15.—Fourteen staff officers of General Urbina's force were executed with Urbina as the result of the visit of General Villa to Urbina's ranch at Las Nievas last week, according to an American who arrived here today who said he had accompanied General Villa on the trip.

The American said when Villa and his bodyguard, including General Rudolfo Fierro, arrived early Friday and surrounded the ranch Urbina and his staff opened fire.

"Villa ordered a charge upon the house," said the American. "As his men entered by windows and doors, Urbina tried to cover Fierro with his pistol, whereupon Fierro sent a bullet through Urbina's right arm and Urbina surrendered and ordered his staff to follow suit.

"It has been Villa's plan to send Urbina to Chihuahua for execution, but he turned him over to Fierro. Five minutes later Fierro returned and reported he had 'taken Urbina to Chihuahua.'

"Fourteen of Urbina's officers caught in the ranch house were taken from the building one at a time by Fierro, who would return shortly with a small piece of rope with which the officer's hands had been tied.

"In Parral and Jiminez several of Urbina's officers were caught and executed, I understood."

Baby Escapes Unhurt While 9 Grown Persons Are Killed or Injured

St. George, Utah, September 15.—A baby three months old was the only one of ten passengers to escape death or injury when an automobile stage, leaving here for the railroad station at Lund, Utah, yesterday, ran off the mountain road near Belleview and rolled 200 feet to the bottom of a creek. Mrs. Sarah Casto, Richfield, Utah, was killed. Two other passengers were injured, probably fatally.

AUTOISTS CHARGED BY COUNTY POLICE WITH BEATING GIRL

Charged with brutally beating a girl of eighteen, two autoists were arrested last night by County Officers Oliver, Heard and Stovall and lodged in the county jail.

F. J. Phillips and J. R. Broadnax, the two men, and the girl, Pearl White, were in a machine on Stewart avenue beyond Capitol View. The girl was beaten on the face and chest and some of her clothes were torn.

Phillips was charged at the jail with "assault and battery" and required to give $500 bond; the girl and Broadnax with "drunk on the public highway," and bond of $100. Bond was given.

SOME WOULD DIE AMAZINGLY QUICK

Conductor Saunders Kept Tab and Always Had Bottle on Every Run.

The following is a part of a remarkable interview with W. A. Saunders, one of the best known conductors of the L. & N. Ry., running between Nashville and Decatur, Ala.:

I lost two summers' work on account of acute indigestion. I had spells so bad that I have been taken from the train and put in a hotel or hospital. I watched the reports of people who died and noticed how quick some had expired after an attack of acute indigestion. I never did anything as gladly as to tell what Vitalitas has done for me. It is my duty. Vitalitas has cured me of acute indigestion, of bad liver, and weak stomach. I would have fits and convulsions; I tried every known remedy without finding relief, but Vitalitas was a God send to me. It is worth $1,000.00 to me and if I thought today would be my last opportunity to buy it I would take 100 bottles with me. I have been with the L. & N. since 18 years of age. I take my bottle of Vitalitas with me just the same as I carry my lunch and have done so for the past 60 days." Mr. Saunders' home address is 908 12th Ave. South, Nashville, Tenn.

People who are subjected to nervous strain, who suffer with chronic stomach ills, nervous debility, rheumatism and the like are finding relief in Vitalitas. It is Nature's most wonderful corrective and tonic.

See the display and sample Vitalitas at Jacobs' Pharmacy, 23 Whitehall St., or write there for information.—(adv.)

COUNTER ATTACKS BY THE RUSSIANS CHECKING TEUTONS

All Along the Eastern Front Stubborn Opposition Has Greatly Slowed Advance of Invaders.

London, September 15.—Field Marshal von Hindenburg's drive toward the Dvinsk-Vilna railway is not progressing as fast as his others, and except at one or two points about midway between these towns, where his cavalry has cut the railway, he is still being stubbornly opposed by Russian counter attacks. Von Hindenburg, however, has reached a point west of the Bridge Head across from the town of Dvinsk and is preparing to attack that fortified area.

Along the rest of the line the German advance also has slowed up. In Galicia the Russians are still attacking, and, according to unofficial reports, the Austro-German armies are falling back across the Dniester. Just north of the Galician border the Russians also are on the offensive and are making an attempt to recapture the fortress of Dubno, which the Austrians took last week.

This offensive in the south, it is believed, will have an effect on the rest of the front, as reinforcements must soon be sent there, or the Teutonic allies will run the danger of being outflanked.

AUSTRIA MOVES AGAINST ITALY.

Despite this, the Austrians have sent reinforcements against Italy and have at some parts of the line assumed the offensive. The country is so rough and Italians since they declared war have been so successful in capturing important positions for defense, that an advance by the Austrians cannot for some time threaten the defenders. The operations, however, are likely to take on a more interesting character.

The heavy guns continue their bombardment along the western front, and in the Vosges another battle is in progress for possession of Hartmans-Weilerkopf, which has changed hands often during the past few months.

According to dispatches from Holland, British warships again have attacked German positions on the Belgian coast. Air raids by allied airmen on towns now occupied by the Germans and by Zeppelins on England are of daily occurrence.

AUSTRIANS REPORT SEVERE FIGHTING.

Vienna, September 15.—(Via London.) Today's war office statement reads:

"On the Bessarabian frontier our troops have repulsed Russian attacks on the Dniester. Before our positions of east Buczacz quiet prevails.

"On all the remaining parts of the Galician and Volhynian fronts severe, but for the enemy unsuccessful, fighting has developed.

"Northeast of Dubno (Russia) the enemy made an unsuccessful counter attack and lost many men killed and in addtion 6 officers and 800 men made prisoners and 3 machine guns captured. A Hungarian landwehr battalion and Ostcan infantry regiment No. 79 especially distinguished themselves in this engagement.

"In the wood and marsh districts of the Styr and Pripet rivers our cavalry during the last few days has repulsed numerous enemy cavalry detachments.

"The Austro-Hungarian forces, fighting in Lithunia with the German troops, have reached the Sczara river."

BATTLES IN AIR. WON BY BRITISH.

London, September 15.—The Press Bureau issued a report from Field Marshal Sir John French in which the British commander says:

"Since my last communication, September 9, there has been no change in the situation on our front. There has been considerable artillery activity on both sides, more particularly southeast of Armentieres and in the neighborhood of Ypres.

"Three hostile aeroplanes were brought down within the past four days. Of these, two were hit by our anti-aircraft guns and fell inside the German lines. The third was shot down by our air pilots and fell in our lines. The hostile machine was only slightly damaged, but both pilot and observer were killed.

"During the past week there have been twenty-one air fights over the German lines, and in eleven cases the hostile aeroplane was driven to the ground.

"On September 10 our artillery, assisted by aeroplane direction, bombarded two German observation balloons located east of Ypres. The balloon burst, while the second was deflated and removed.

"Mining activity has continued, but without important results on either side."

GERMANS CLAIM SOME PROGRESS.

Berlin, September 15.—(Via London.) The German official statement today reads:

"Western theater of war: A French attempt to make an attack on Hartmans-Weilerkopf was prevented by our fire.

"Eastern theater of war:

"Army group of Field Marshal von Hindenburg: Fighting continues at the bridgehead west of Dvinsk. At Soloki, southwest of Dvinsk, enemy cavalry was defeated. Enemy counter attacks on our positions north of the Viliya were repulsed.

"East of Olita and Grodno, our attack is making further progress. South of the Niemen we have reached the Szczara river at a few points. About 900 prisoners were taken.

"Army group of Prince Leopold: The enemy has been driven back across the Szczara.

"Army group of Field Marshal von Mackensen: Our pursuit in the direction of Pinsk is continuing. The number of prisoners taken has been increased to more than 700.

"Southeastern theater of war:

"Enemy attacks have been repulsed with sanguinary losses."

ARTILLERY ACTIONS CONTINUE IN WEST.

Paris, September 15.—Tonight's war office statement reads:

"To the north and south of Arras, as well as in the region of Roye, artillery actions continue with intensity. On the plateau of Quennesvieres there has been fighting with bombs and grenades.

"On the canal from the Aisne to the Marne the activity of both artillery forces has been concentrated on the Berry-Au-Bac-Neuville front, where the enemy has been exerting himself for several days with the object of dislodging us from the bridge head at Sapigneul.

"In Champagne an artillery duel has been in progress, but it moderated toward the end of the day.

"On the heights of the Meuse our observers have been able to establish the destruction of one enemy battery. In the forest of Apremont, in Lepretre forest and in the region of St. Die, artillery actions are also reported, the advantage being in our favor."

The communication issued in the afternoon follows:

"In the Artois district, in the sectors of Neuville and Bretencourt, there has been fighting with hand grenades, accompanied by some artillery exchanges. Yesterday saw also engagements with bombs in the vicinity of Lisons, to the west of Chaunnes, and in the forest of St. Mard, to the east of Tracy-le-Valui.

"There has been also fairly spirited cannonading to the north of the Camp De Chalons, and fighting with mines is taking place in the western part of the Argonne.

"The night passed without incident on the remainder of the front."

HEAVY FIRING IN NORTH SEA.

London, September 15.—A Reuter's dispatch from Maasluis, Holland, says:

"Heavy firing can be heard in a westerly direction. It commenced at 9:30 o'clock tonight, and by 10 o'clock became so violent that windows, both here and at Hook-of-Holland, were set rattling."

Maasluis and the Hook-of-Holland are on the North Sea, west of Rotterdam.

ITALIANS CHECK AUSTRIAN RUSHES,

Rome, September 15.—(Via Paris.)—Today's general headquarters statement reads:

"The enemy, who is constantly being heavily reinforced, tried at several points to exert pressure on our lines by means of infantry attacks, preceding and accompanied by violent artillery action. These efforts, however, were in vain. These offensive movements were reported in Popena valley—Asniei, along the crest of the Carnic Alps, Upper Degano and at the head of Chiarso.

"Enemy aeroplanes have appeared above the Tormezzo Plezzo and Carporetta basins. Another squadron attempted a raid on Udina, but, attacked by our aeroplanes, were repulsed and pursued as far as Carso.

"Enemy encampments on Nabresina and Komen have been effectively bombarded by our aeroplanes."

Vienna, September 15.—(Via London.) The Austrian war office has issued the following in regard to the Italian theater:

"In the Tyrolean frontier district both today and yesterday there were the usual artillery combats. East of the Lodout pass our troops attacked and captured enemy positions on the Findenig Kofel and on the ridge southeast of Green Seberg.

"On the front of the coastal district, Italian artillery has bombarded with increased violence our positions from Jaborcek to the bridge head of Tolmino. Enemy attacks against the Jaborcek and Vrsic district collapsed.

"The usual atempts of the enemy to approach the district of Doberdo failed."

1,500 JEWS UNABLE TO VOTE SEPT. 30 IN CITY PRIMARY

Since the date of the city primaries, September 30, falls within the period of a Jewish holiday, approximately 1,500 orthodox Jews will be unable to vote at that time. This was definitely ascertained yesterday by Sam P. Cronheim, when the matter was taken up with him by Rabbi Tobias Gessen with the view of fixing another date for the voting of Jews with orthodox beliefs.

Mr. Cronheim first suggested that there was a possibility that the polls might be kept open one hour longer, September 30, or until 8 o'clock in the evening. It was then discovered, however, that the orthodox Jews also observe October 1 as a holiday and that they would not, therefore, be able to vote even after sunset of the preceding day.

"According to the law the date for the city primary must be set fully thirty days in advance," said Mr. Cronheim. "The committee having this in charge selected September 30 because the bond election had been set for that date. At that time the fact that the date was a Jewish holiday was not presented to the committee and it is powerless at this time to change the date."

Mrs. Martha Mobley Died on Wednesday At Local Hospital

Mrs. Martha Foster Mobley, Monroe, Ga., well known in Georgia, died yesterday evening at a private hospital. The body was removed to the chapel of Barclay & Brandon and will be taken this morning to Monroe for funeral and interment. Mrs. Mobley was the daughter of Judge F. C. Foster, Madison, a member of the legislature.

Besides her parents, Mrs. Mobley is survived by her husband, Albert B. Mobley; two sons, Albert and Coleman Mobley; two brothers, Albert and Fred Foster, Madison; two sisters, Mrs. Harvey Stovall, Athens, and Mrs. Manor Wade, Madison. Her brother, Floyd Foster, was recently killed by a court bailiff of a neighboring town.

DOCTORS URGE CAUTION ABOUT TWILIGHT SLEEP

Pittsburg, Pa., September 15.—The exercises of caution in administration of a treatment such a "twilight sleep" was urged by speakers at today's sessions of the convention of the American Association of Obstretricians and Gynecologists.

Dr. E. Gustave Zinke, of Cincinnati, said that while it was the duty of the physician to relieve pain, he should not contribute in the least toward making cowards of women. Dr. A. J. Rongy, of New York, said the system was not a painless labor, but a labor by which the physician tries to reduce the pain. Dr. Henry Schwartz, of St. Louis, declared it would be unfortunate to place the method in general use.

Indianapolis was chosen as the next meeting place and Dr. Hugo O. Pantzler, Indianapolis, was elected president.

ALL PORTS OF HAITI UNDER U. S. CONTROL

Washington, September 15.—All open customs ports in Haiti now are under United States control. Rear Admiral Caperton telegraphed today that this was accomplished when the cruiser Sacramento, with marines, occupied Jamrel and LeGayes yesterday.

GENERAL EXODUS OF U. S. CITIZENS

Begins in Northern Mexico Following Order From Washington--Villa Agents Angered by Washington's Action.

Washington, September 15.—American consuls in northern Mexico, the chief battle ground between the contending factions, have been advised by the state department not only to notify American citizens to withdraw from the danger zones, but to leave Mexico themselves if conditions become intolerable.

Secretary Lansing today described the instructions to consuls, which were issued several days ago, as merely precautionary because of disturbed conditions.

General Obregon's rapid advance into northern Mexico and frequent reports of lawlessness on the border, have led to the measures, according to officials. The only formal announcement on the subject reads:

"Owing to disturbed conditions prevailing along the Mexican border, the department repeats the advice heretofore given to American citizens to remain on this side of the international line for the present."

As soon as American citizens have withdrawn, there will be no necessity, in the opinion of high officials here, for the consuls to remain, but it was denied they had been ordered to leave, discretion being vested in the consuls themselves. The notifications have extended to consuls in Torreon, Chihuahua, Hermosillo, Guaymas, Nogales and Juarez, all in Villa territory.

Latest telegrams to the department tonight indicated a general exodus of Americans.

Villa Agency Angered.

Villa's Washington agency received news of the department's action with unconcealed surprise and resentment. Enrique C. Llorente, Villa's representative, announced that he had addressed a communication to the state department expressing surprise and inquiring as to the intention of the United States.

"The provisional government," said Llorente's statement, "finds difficulty in giving credence to the reports of the state department's action, but in view of statements such as: 'Officials explained that this was because depredations and lawlessness were occurring principally along the boundaries controlled by Villa,' it cannot refrain from vigorus protest against such imputations.

"While it is notorious that the failure of General Carranza to control his forces has resulted in the raids into American territory in the vicinity of Brownsville, it is equally well known that depredations and lawlessness have been entirely absent in the territory controlled by General Villa in northern Mexico, particularly along the border of Texas, New Mexico and Arizona, with which the Mexican states of Chihuahua and Sonora join.

"General Villa has provided ample forces in every part of the territory his forces control to safeguard the lives of foreigners. He not only has guaranteed full protection to foreigners, but at the request of General Scott, and to his military disadvantage, he has made concessions depriving himself of extensive taxable resources."

AMERICAN SOLDIERS GUARD SAN BENITO.

San Benito, Texas, September 15.—Heavy cavalry and infantry patrols, which were rushed to this city during last night, kept off a threatened attack by Mexican bandits.

Evidence of a plot to terrorize the city were strengthened by reports to army patrols during the night of activities of Mexicans outside of town.

Just before dawn, the time which the commanding officers here suspected was chosen for the attack, infantry details were sent out along the roads for some distance from town. No belligerent Mexicans appeared. Soon after sunrise San Benito resumed its normal aspect and ranch owners who had come into town for the night started back to the country to resume work.

Officers here believe San Benito may be subjected to similar threats for some time. They have been informed of an organization of revolutionists which, it is said, planned to make a demonstration at some other point to draw troops away and then attack the town. San Benito will be closely guarded for several days. Three companies of infantry and two troops of cavalry now are quartered here.

Mercedes, twenty miles from here, also has been threatened.

A few days ago a number of strange Mexicans were noticed here. At the same time several trusted Mexican household servants advised their employers to leave because they had heard that the bandits were going to attack.

San Benito citizens yesterday asked Colonel Robert L. Bullard at Harlingen for more troops. Rangers armed with rifles began coming into town from nearby farms bringing their families in automobiles. They said they were uneasy about the approach of Mexican independence day, September 16, the celebration of which begins today. They said Mexicans in the country were "talking bad."

Colonel Bullard sent in response to San Benito's call infantry and cavalry here, and Colonel A. P. Blocksom at Brownsville ordered out a troop train to bring more infantry.

Captain Brune T. Scher, of the 26th infantry, and Major Davis filled ten automobiles with soldiers, stationing them on the main street where the soldiers slept under arms in the machines, their drivers ready for a dash into the country.

MEXICANS SHOOT INTO TEXAS TOWN.

Laredo, Texas, September 15.—Mexicans hidden in the brush on the Mexican side last night fired about fifty shots into the town of Simon, twenty miles up the river from Laredo, and residents deserted the town. Workmen at irrigation pump plants fled and a hurry call was sent for troops. Cavalry from Dolores was rushed to the scene but no further shots were fired. All cavalry stationed at Fort McIntosh was sent to patrol the border in every direction today.

MEXICANS CELEBRATE THEIR INDEPENDENCE.

Brownsville, Texas, September 15.—Mexicans on both sides of the Rio Grande tonight began the celebration of the 150th anniversary of Mexico's independence, with much military, but so far as reports received at Fort Brown here indicate, without disorder. As a precaution against riotous demonstrations, United States army patrols along the international boundary were strengthened today and citizens of the border counties were deputized as special police to aid county peace officers in the event of an outbreak.

CROWDS VISITED PAYNE YESTERDAY

Many Get Benefit of His Study and Obtain Celebrated Sylax.

Will Ask the City Officials for Proper Information in Helping Poor Families.

Many called throughout Wednesday at Coursey & Munn's drug store, corner Marietta and Broad streets, to meet A. G. Payne, the noted visitor, and to find out just how this famous medicine, Sylax, was sold, how it was prepared and what the preparation actually looked like. In commenting on the rush to meet Mr. Payne and obtain his celebrated medicine, his manager said:

"The success of the opening day of the introductory sale of Sylax exceeds our expectations. We have been agreeably surprised by the knowledge the public seems to have about the preparation.

"While some come to meet Mr. Payne and see just what his medicine really looks like, equally as many came prepared to obtain the preparation. These people simply asked for Sylax, and the facility with which the medicine was distributed proved a revelation to me."

Mr. Payne said: "I am indeed gratified to see such marked enthusiasm and I feel justified in predicting that Sylax will prove just as successful in Atlanta as it has in the larger cities. I do not believe that I am overestimating in forecasting the success of the medicine when I state that I am confident that many hundred will call and obtain Sylax during this week."

Mr. Payne was asked about the charitable work he intended to perform in Atlanta. He said: "Yes, it is true that I will ask some of the city authorities to furnish me a list of worthy poor and as soon as practicable will call on them and see that they are helped in a substantial way."

When asked if his new medicine, Sylax, was for stomach trouble, Mr. Payne replied, "I am sure that there is nothing just like Sylax. From the first three doses stomach sufferers say it seems to touch the right spot, especially those who have fullness after meals, palpitation of the heart, dizziness or lightness of the head, food laying heavy like lumps in the stomach, constipation, hot flashes and nervousness. It acts as a tonic to the entire system. It is a health giver and invigorating tonic, and the results are really amazing, as it apparently makes you like old-fashioned people were, strong, sturdy and well. —(Adv.)

A PURE WHITE MINERAL OIL FOR CONSTIPATION

THE final test of a remedy is—does it do away with the trouble for which it is taken?

By that test, the various laxatives and cathartics stand condemned. They do not remove the condition they are supposed to cure. In fact, the longer they are used, the more they are needed. Laxatives and cathartics are dangerously habit-forming.

By the same test, the mineral oil treatment, used in conjunction with a return to rational habits of eating and exercise, reveals itself as the one logical remedy for constipation.

Nujol is odorless and tasteless, absolutely neutral, and is not digested or absorbed into the system. It acts merely as a mechanical lubricant.

Nujol is not a drug. Its use will not give quick, temporary relief. But Nujol is a genuine remedy in that it relieves constipation in the most natural way by lubricating the lining of the intestines, softening the intestinal contents, and thus promoting healthy and normal bowel activity.

Write for "The Rational Treatment of Constipation," an informative treatise on constipation. If you cannot get Nujol from your druggist, we will send you a pint bottle prepaid to any point in the United States on receipt of 75c—money order or stamps.

$1,000 IS GIVEN BY STOCKBRIDGE TO OGLETHORPE

The Stockbridge Presbyterian church placed its name in an honor position among those contributing to the foundation fund of the Oglethorpe university when $1,000 was subscribed last Sunday afternoon by a group of twenty-four members meeting in the Sunday school room. This contribution was made in answer to an appeal by Dr. H. J. Gaertner, who is working for the establishment of the university.

The first step was taken when W. W. Ward stated that he would give $400 if the others present would subscribe $600. This was quickly done, after Dr. Gaertner had told the story of Oglethorpe college.

Among those contributing were: W. W. Ward, U. R. Hinton, J. A. Cook, C. M. Power, H. P. Hawkins, Mrs. J. G. Ward, Mrs. Z. D. Ward, H. D. Mays, Mrs. H. V. Hawkins, Mrs. A. H. Swann, Mrs. J. H. Askew, Mrs. J. T. Bellah and J. H. Owen.

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING CLASS BEGINS ITS WORK

The first schoolroom class in practical newspaper advertising ever inaugurated in the south was started last night as a special feature at the Georgia Tech School of Commerce, with L. D. Hicks as instructor. The class was largely attended and indications are that it will prove one of the most popular courses of the year.

The Atlanta Constitution and other big daily newspapers will be used as "text books" in connection with the course, and it will be of a thoroughly practical nature. As the course goes on it will include local newspaper advertising, national newspaper campaigns, national and international magazine advertising, and other branches.

Mr. Hicks has had a widespread and successful experience in the advertising field. He is prominent in the Ad Men's club and the Rotary club, and for years has been one of the leading advertising men in Atlanta.

The Georgia Tech's School of Commerce which holds its classes at night, although it is an entirely separate institution from the Tech Night school, began its fall session this week, but registration is still open and application may still be made for attendance on the classes.

TECH NIGHT SCHOOL BOOKS CLOSE TODAY

Today is the last day for application and registration for the classes of the free night school at the Georgia School of Technology, which begins next Monday, September 20.

All applications for registration for these classes will have to be in the hands of Professor J. N. G. Nesbit, dean of the night school, by tonight at 7 o'clock, and all who have already made application but who have not registered are requested by the school to do so between now and Monday, in order that they may be sure of getting in the classes.

The free night school will be taxed to its capacity this fall. It is operated by the state of Georgia as a part of Georgia Tech, and furnishes an opportunity for a technical education to those who have not the time or money to attend the regular day sessions. Already nearly 200 applications have been made.

ORDER OF EASTERN STAR FORMED AT GAINESVILLE

Gainesville, Ga., September 15.—(Special.)—The Masonic circle is now well rounded out in Gainesville, as last Tuesday night the chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star, which had for the past six months existed by dispensation, was granted its permanent charter by the grand chapter of the state of Georgia. The local chapter is named Brenau, in honor of Brenau college, and has been given No. 114 on the roster of the grand chapter. Mrs. Ada Jones, grand marshal of the state, acted as deputy grand matron. She was assisted by Mrs. D. S. Walraven, past matron of Atlanta chapter No. 57, and Miss Lelia Eaves, of the same chapter, who acted as grand marshal for the installation ceremony. Mrs. Willie B. $135,000 IS GIVEN TO EMORY UNIVERSITY

Presidents' Club Announces This Part of $500,000 Already Assured.

With the announcement that voluntary subscribers had contributed $135,000 of the $500,000 promised by the chamber of commerce for the citizens of Atlanta to Emory university for the erection of buildings, the Presidents' club meeting was of the opinion that a long step had been taken toward establishing this great institution in the south. It was also announced that October 1 would be the date for a systematic solicitation of the remainder of the fund which is to be vigorously taken up by the Founders' club of Emory university.

It was pointed out that every cent of the $500,000 would be spent in Atlanta for building material for structures which have already been begun on the campus.

These buildings, when completed, will present one of the most beautiful and imposing appearances of any group of university structures in the world. They will be made of reinforced concrete and veneered with white marble. All of the marble needed has been given to the university and is of the highest building grade.

Asa G. Candler, Bishop Warren A. Candler and Mell R. Wilkinson addressed the meeting and spoke in glowing terms of the hope and scope of such a university in the south.

Among those who had voluntarily contributed to the fund of $500,000 it was announced that Rev. T. T. Fishburne, Roanoke, Va., had given $25,000; George Winship, Atlanta, also gave $25,000. The late Samuel M. Inman provided for a gift of $5,000. Samuel Candler Dobbs has agreed to erect a dormitory of ample proportions and excellent equipment costing approximately $50,000. Besides these gifts, other amounts aggregating about $30,000 have been subscribed.

which are to be sent over the whole country to show what Georgia does, the slate quarries at Rockmart, which is the only deposit of commercial value of this mineral south of Virginia; the big orchards all over the state, the farms of cotton, beans, peanuts, corn, hay and potatoes, the dairies, the cattle and other stock, the abbatoir in Atlanta, where meat is prepared for the market; the good roads scenes, the bathers in the surf in Savannah, the start of the good roads tour of the Gainesville boosters, the Riverside academy and the Brenau college at Gainesville with the flower girls' parade, scenes at Georgia Tech, a track meet, with hurling, jumping, dashes and mile races; the pageant at Agnes Scott, the opening of the baseball season in Atlanta and the big events of Shriners' day when Atlanta entertained tens of thousands of visitors. Scenes are shown in every town of the state. There is also Georgia's most notable agricultural event at Quitman.

Governor Harris will preside at the meeting and will introduce J. K. Orr, who will state the purposes of the gathering and urge upon Atlanta and the state-at-large the importance of working shoulder to shoulder for a three-year publicity and development campaign. As a part of the plan a diversified farming campaign will be started. This will include lectures held in 3,000 schools throughout the state by forty lecturers equipped with charts. The plans also contemplate putting exhibition cars on all the railroads to carry evidences of Georgia's progress before the eyes of the whole nation.

Colonel L. W. Branch, of Quitman, who was largely responsible for the development gathering in Quitman, will state the details of the plan. Colonel Sam Tate will then introduce a resolution asking for an indorsement of the plan.

This campaign is far from being exclusively agricultural, but aims at a broad, complete development in every lines that will benefit the state. It has no connection with the fairs, etc., that are to be held here this fall, though both have the same ends in view.

Grossman to Organize Local Suffrage Leagues In South Georgia Towns

Leonard J. Grossman, attorney for the Georgia Woman's Suffrage organization, was requested at a conference of the executive committee in Hotel Ansley Wednesday to draft charters for local suffrage leagues, auxiliary to the state association, and to organize men's leagues in Waycross, Savannah, Brunswick and other south Georgia cities.

Mr. Grossman left for south Georgia Wednesday to participate in certain litigation, representing local interests. The suffragists, learning that he was leaving town on a business trip, communicated with him at once and asked him to watch out for their interests, especially in Waycross where a recent amendment to the city charter was passed by the state legislature, enfranchising the women of Waycross in municipal elections.

As attorney for the suffragists, Mr. Grossman has been asked to make an analysis of the Waycross charter amendment, with an opinion as to its legality and emphasizing, if possible, its constitutionality.

Any Woman Can Now Have Pretty Curly Hair

(Feminine World.)

Who'd have thought so simple a thing as applying ordinary liquid silmerine could convert straight hair into such pretty curly locks in a single night! The one who made this discovery is surely entitled to a rising vote of thanks. Now all we need do is to wet a brush with this harmless liquid at night, draw this through the hair, and in the morning we find it has dried in just the sweetest waves and curls.

It's good news, indeed, that we can now dispense with the destructive waving tongs forever! The curliness is so much more natural looking where the liquid silmerine is used, and certainly one's "crowning glory" appears softer, glossier and more beautiful. When it is so easy to secure a few ounces of this from the druggist—which will keep the hair in curl for weeks—there's no reason now for any one putting up with straight, straggly, or scorched, dead-looking hair.

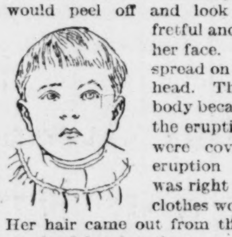
WATERY ERUPTION ON BABY'S FACE

Head, Ears, Body. Hair Came Out. Now Skin White and Smooth.

HEALED BY CUTICURA SOAP AND OINTMENT

"When my baby was three weeks old her face became full of rough scales, which would peel off and look red. She was fretful and tried to scratch her face. The rash would spread on her face and her head. Then her ears and body became covered with the eruption, and her legs were covered too. The eruption on her body was right watery, and her clothes would stick to her. Her hair came out from the trouble. She was fretful and restless.



"A friend told me to get Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I used the Soap and Ointment three weeks, and now she has as white and smooth skin as any baby." (Signed) Mrs. Hallie Wall, R. F. D. 2, Nelson, Va., Jan. 5, 1915.

Safe Home Remedy for Skin-Troubles

Eczema, ringworm and other itching, burning skin eruptions are so easily made worse by improper treatment that one has to be very careful. There is one method, however, that you need never hesitate to use, even on a baby's tender skin—that is the resinol treatment. Resinol is the prescription of a Baltimore doctor, put up in the form of resinol ointment and resinol soap. This proved so remarkably successful, that thousands of other physicians have prescribed it constantly for over twenty years.

Resinol stops itching instantly, and almost always heals the eruption quickly and at little cost. Resinol ointment and resinol soap can be bought at any druggist's. Write for free samples. Dept. 3-R, Resinol, Baltimore, Md.

CARRIAGE BUILDERS FACING PROSPERITY

P. J. Zimpelmann, of the Blount Carriage and Buggy company, leaves shortly to attend the forty-third annual convention of the Carriage Builders' National association, which meets in Cleveland, Ohio, September 21, 22 and 23.

Mr. Zimpelmann said Saturday:

"On account of the great developments in farming and stock-raising in Georgia, I believe that the southern branches of vehicle manufacturers will do a good business during the coming season.

"The Carriage Builders' National association was organized in 1872 and more than one thousand builders of buggies and surreys are expected to attend this year's convention. Builders of these vehicles, in most parts of the country, are finding a satisfactory market for their product.

"While thousands of vehicles of all descriptions are purchased annually by town users, yet the best customers of the manufacturers of horse-drawn vehicles are found among the prosperous farmers. Reports indicate that crops of wheat, corn, oats, potatoes and tobacco will be far above the average this fall, and the optimism of the farmers has already shown its effect in increased orders to the buggy and wagon factories of the land."

AT THE THEATERS

Keith Vaudeville.

(At the Forsyth.)

The Irish bagpipe makes its debut at the Forsyth theater this week in "A Friendly Call," a humorous sketch staged by Charles Mack and company. An Irish bagpipe is a cross between the Scotch breed and a church organ, with an accordion attachment and this difference, that it is played with the hands and not the mouth. Charles Mack himself performs on it to the delectation of the audience while Etta Bastedo does a clog dance. The dances of Muriel Worth and Lew Brice are new to Atlantans and the songs of Chris Cornelia and Bob Knapp have never been sung here before. Fred Warren and Roy Dietrich do a little singing on their own account, and with Jollie Johnny Jones and his tight rope as an opener and the Five Statues to close, the bill is well rounded.

"The Great Ruby."

(At the Grand.)

Complications are piled upon complications—intrigue follows intrigue until the imagination staggers at the task of unraveling it all in "The Great Ruby," the Lubin feature of the V-L-S-E at the Grand today. While the play abounds in thrills and action, there is a mystery that appeals and the fight for the jewel is one to the death. But the absorbing story is unraveled in an entirely logical and satisfactory, though sensational manner, the ending being as thrilling as the mind could conceive, the fight in the big balloon and the artillery bringing the aircraft to earth being the particular features. Tomorrow and Saturday Cyril Maude in the great Paramount feature, "Peer Gynt."

Francis X. Bushman.

SUPPLIES ARE NEEDED BY HOLMES INSTITUTE

The Holmes institute opened its tenth annual session with the largest attendance in the history of the institution. Music was furnished by 100 voices. Rev. D. H. Sims, vice president of Morris Brown university, made the principal address. Archie Gray, a deacon of Wheat Street Baptist church, said the institute is saving more young negro boys and girls from ignorance and crime than any institution in the state. Speaches were made by Revs. B. G. Dawson, E. H. Oliver, J. M. Sims and Mattie Ford.

B. R. Holmes, president of the institute, said that the school is in need of funds to buy fuel, clothing and books for the students attending the boarding and day school. More than 100 students made application who were not able to buy books and clothing, and several of these students have no father and mother to care for them. Holmes institute was established for that class of unfortunate colored people.

DEKALB COUNTY SCHOOLS SHOW BIG IMPROVEMENT

Decatur, Ga., September 15.—(Special.)—The public schools of DeKalb county which have just opened are having the largest attendance in the history of the county.

Superintendent R. E. Carroll is being constantly called upon for more teachers and more room to accommodate the increased attendance. As a result of the county-wide system of school taxation and the improvement of all the schools of the county, a new spirit prevails throughout the county. Citizens of all sections are putting forth every effort to make the schools second to no county system in the state.

During the past year about twenty-five of the schools were repaired or rebuilt. During the ensuing term the work of improving the buildings and grounds will be continued until every school in the county will have all the conveniences of a standard school.

RECALL COMMITTEE IS NOT YET READY TO FILE ITS LIST

The recall committee, which is getting up a list of qualified voters to recall the mayor and six other police commissioners who voted to demote Chief Beavers, has not yet perfected the list, according to a statement given out yesterday by Attorney Walter McElreath.

Mr. McElreath says the committee is going to set the mark 1,000 above the required 25 per cent of the registered voters. He said that the report that the committee would not send its petition to the city clerk until some time after the first of December was not correct.

"There is, however," he stated, "a probability that the committee will not file its petition for some weeks to come."

THE STORY OF GEORGIA.

An interesting story of Georgia and her numerous industries and resources will be told in moving pictures at the Auditorium tonight to an audience which will undoubtedly fill the spacious hall.

The last time a department of the state attempted to present Georgia's story it took more than a hundred pages of printed matter to present the bare details. This moving picture, with 6,000 feet of film, will tell more and tell it more graphically and interestingly in sixty minutes than could possibly be told in a hundred-page book.

So important is this occasion regarded that invitations have been sent to commercial bodies in the four corners of the state to be represented in this gathering. Replies indicate that 2,000 to 3,000 Georgians from all parts of the state will be here tonight to see and pass judgment upon Georgia as shown in vivid, lifelike pictures upon the Auditorium screen.

Atlanta warmly welcomes these visitors and wishes there were more of them, for this lifelike film will tell a story which every Georgian ought to know.

Only those who have traveled the state from one end to the other, month after month, and year after year, visiting practically every county site and seeing Georgia, in fact, can know the state as it really is. The next thing to it will be the Georgia moving picture film telling in vivid and active detail the story of Georgia's fields, mines, forests and factories. Those who have seen this film declare it tells a story which cannot fail to leave its strong impress, and from it Georgians can get more substantial and graphically presented information regarding their own state than they could gather in months of reading about it.

Atlanta and Georgia should fill the Auditorium tonight. Not only will it be well worth the while of every man, woman and child comprising the audience at the first public presentation of the Georgia industrial film, but an immense audience will signalize an auspicious beginning for the greater Georgia publicity campaign which is now being planned to cover the United States from one end to the other. When this film has been perfected by additions yet to be made, until it comprises 10,000 feet or more, it is to be shown from Maine to California and from the Great Lakes to the Gulf, in company with the two exhibition cars of Georgia products, which will be displayed in every agricultural section. Contracts have been entered into by the Georgia Chamber of Commerce covering a period of three years' exhibition of these Georgia products cars and the moving picture film, so that millions will be told the Georgia story in hundreds and thousands of cities and towns all over the country.

It is up to Georgia to start this campaign with a hurrah, and the beginning of it is tonight when Atlantans and Georgians themselves gather to see the first showing of the picture.

HELPFUL RETALIATION.

As a measure of retaliation, and in the hope that it will embarrass the Anglo-French loan, pro-German bankers in the United States are talking of making a loan of half a billion dollars to Germany.

Financiers and business interests throughout the United States will welcome this proposal, if the German sympathizers can make this loan upon anything like the same terms involved in the loan to the allies—whatever those terms may be.

The primary and practically the only requisite is that it be made upon a basis of trade with the United States. If any American bankers, pro-German or otherwise, can lend Germany half a billion or any other amount to be taken out in trade with this country, they should "hasten to it."

This is a healthy sort of retaliation. We couldn't want anything better than to have Germany try to get back at England by arranging to purchase more of the products which we have for sale.

The basis of the proposed billion dollar loan to France and England is that it shall be taken out in products made in the United States. If any of the other belligerents want money on the same basis, American financial interests will no doubt be glad to let them have it.

This kind of retaliation helps!

CROWNING COTTON AGAIN.

Spot cotton in local markets has gone away above 10 cents, and December closed yesterday above 11 cents.

It is nearly as far above 10 cents now as it was above 9 cents a week or ten days ago.

And it is strong at that.

There is scarcely enough cotton this year to satisfy world needs, and those countries which must have it are making plans to get their share of it in due time. It is understood that even Germany is active in the American market, and is purchasing and storing cotton against the day when she can make prompt use of it.

Negotiations for the immense Anglo-French loan are undoubtedly proving a leading factor in strengthening the market. American financiers are not going to let that loan or any part of it go elsewhere; and when it is finally made it means more cotton at still higher prices.

Everywhere it is recognized that the tendency of the market is upward. It is advancing or strengthening every day, and predictions of cotton at 12½ cents, and even higher, which seemed over-optimistic a month ago, are now within the realm of early probability.

There is no need of further comment upon the meaning of this to the business south. The effect is already felt in business activity the like of which we have not known since the European war began. It will continue to grow until we have actually arrived at the biggest and best fall and winter season we have ever known.

That is just what we were looking forward to fourteen months ago when cotton was selling around 11 cents! And then it slumped half, when all Europe became involved in war.

Now 11-cent cotton is coming again. It is nearly here. It means more profit than 12 or 13-cent cotton would have meant a year ago. The crop was made that much cheaper. Economy has told the story, and the money is beginning to come in. We have put the sickle to the harvest, and in point of remunerative income it promises to be the biggest yet.

A GEORGIAN AT BERNE.

From a secondary diplomatic post Berne, Switzerland, has become one of the most important points in all Europe. Bounded by France, Germany and Italy, Switzerland is upon three firing lines. Neutral and independent as she is, and with an army which, in spite of her diminutive size, the warlike nations of Europe respect, Switzerland has become the haven of refuge for Americans and other neutrals seeking to escape the war zone and the perils and inconveniences of those countries which have given themselves over to combat.

Thus, Berne has become the objective point of Americans who find themselves surrounded by war in middle Europe. It is also the point of refuge for many French, German and Italian citizens, especially women and children who, able to do it, are seeking to escape the rigors of the war. Often the interests of these European residents, owing to various complications, must come within the sphere of activity of the American minister, so much at daggers' points are all the other leading diplomats assembled in the Swiss capital.

For America and American interests there is a Georgian on duty at Berne. Pleasant A. Stovall, formerly editor of The Savannah Press, and still the proprietor of that newspaper, is the American minister to Switzerland. There could not, perhaps, have been chosen a man with keener appreciation of the importance of the duties which have fallen upon him. Heretofore regarded much in the light of a sinecure, the American minister's office in Berne has become one of the most prominent and important diplomatic headquarters in all Europe.

Due to the European war, Berne has sprung from an unimportant post, which had to do formerly chiefly with tourists who needed little diplomatic attention, to one of the busiest offices on the continent; second in importance, perhaps, only to that in London, through which the bulk of American travel passes.

Minister Stovall has not only to do with Americans who find themselves war-bound in Europe, but through his office there must pass most of the correspondence between American diplomatic officials resident in that country. With the lines of communication cut or closely guarded correspondence between American diplomats in Berlin, Vienna and Constantinople, addressed to their confreres in other European countries must go through the American minister at Berne.

Thus has the post suddenly grown in importance, and with that growth there is need there for a man of affairs, one of strength and ability who can meet and determine issues. The United States is fortunate in its representation. Though made in time of peace, the selection was of a man who knows how, and who has admirably adapted himself to the new and more critical conditions.

It is the more remarkable that with all the difficulties which must beset him, Mr. Stovall, as representative of a neutral nation, has handled matters in Berne without drawing the slightest word of criticism from any of the belligerents.

Georgians will take personal pride in knowing that the American government's affairs in the important post of Berne are so well and so satisfactorily administered by one of its most brilliant sons.

When Molly Tunes Her Fiddle.

The author of many bright things in a Charlotte Observer column sings this song of "When Molly Tunes Her Fiddle:"

"When Molly picks her fiddul up, sticks hit ferninst her chin,
Then littul waves uv luv run up me underneath my skin;

An' feelin's thet haint got no voice in me play hide 'n seek.

An' wish I wuz th' notes thet stare in Molly's dear gray eyes."

Pretty good poetry that—even in rude dialect!

The supreme court has declared unconstitutional the juvenile courts in these cities because they were created under the old general law providing for such courts upon the recommendation of the grand jury. The juvenile courts in Atlanta and Savannah were made legal by special laws.

"The Only Open Door."

(From The Savannah Press.)

Americans and non-combatants are pouring into Switzerland from Italy, Germany and other embattled spots. The obligations assumed by the United States government are reflected in the legation at Berne, which is now the clearing house of Europe.

Our country has for eleven months had charge of German interests in France, likewise those of Austria; English interests in all the belligerent countries; Turkish interests in Europe, French and British interests in Turkey, besides Swiss interests in Africa and in the east, where German consuls formerly acted for them.

Vienna nor Berlin has been able to communicate with Paris, and vice versa, for eleven months and every letter from American ambassadors or consuls in one country must be sent to the American legation in Berne and every line of telegraph from one legation to the other must be repeated in the office of the American minister. The declaration of war between Italy and Austria brought on more trouble. It not only closed up all communication between Rome and Vienna, but it cut the cable from Washington, which was formerly worked through Rome, thence up by Austria into Germany. Official communication between Washington and Vienna must now go through the legation in Berne, for all letters and telegrams concenter there.

More than that, Berne is the entrepot of Paris and Constantinople and furnishes the only means for the embassy in Paris to communicate with Stamboul for the belligerent nations which have large interests there and for our own people. The mail for Turkey, which formerly went through Rome, thence by Trieste to Austria and Rumania, now comes through Berne and is routed by the way of Innsbruck. So in spite of being a neutral country the legation in Berne is really a storm center and thousands of dollars per week is handled for prisoners of war, this amount being remitted from friends in the different countries. Last year $150,000 was telegraphed from Washington to Americans in Switzerland. Every letter which drifts through the chancery must be read to show that there is nothing suspicious, no violation of neutrality.

No wonder that the force at work in the legation at Berne is four times what it was one year ago. The offices and floor space have been exactly doubled and the telegraph tolls per month would make The New York Herald ill. Two messengers are at work daily and Sunday.

But Berne is not the only general delivery and paying teller's window for all Europe. Switzerland is said to be invested with spies trying to slip through into the belligerent countries. American passports have become the favorite cards presented by these worthies and it requires considerable astuteness and vigilance to detect and detain these spurious Americans. Switzerland of course offers the only open door where they try to slip through. Some of them may have gotten by, but not many.

As to Street Paving.

Editor Constitution: Atlanta at last seems to have solved the paving problem for streets at present paved with belgian blocks, which, every one who has ridden over them knows, are nearly impossible. The edges have worn, leaving too much space between them. Some have settled, many have been removed for the laying of pipes and indifferently replaced, leaving such an uneven yet hard surface that these streets are left to the street cars, milk wagons and hucksters, forcing light and heavy traffic onto the smooth pavements, resulting in the most deplorable congestion, necessitating the loss of much valuable time by those obliged to travel about the city.

The block pavement on portions of McDaniel and Gilmer streets, also Piedmont avenue, have recently been covered, the former with tar and crushed rock, the last two with asphalt, furnishing a perfectly smooth surface on an absolutely firm and everlasting foundation, and at a comparatively small cost—50 to 70 cents per square yard—while a new pavement costs more than $2 per square yard. The covering process also has the advantage of being quickly done, while the laying of a new pavement obstructs the street for a long time.

Auburn avenue, between Peachtree and Pryor, might have been covered in a very short time and at a small cost. The city and county furnish the sort of pavement property owners petition for. The new plan is most worthy of consideration.

COL. CHARLES STOKES TAKES CHARGE OF THE SECOND PYTHIAN REGIMENT

Colonel Charles A. Stokes last night at a rally at the Knights of Pythias hall in the Steiner-Emery building formally assumed command of the Second regiment of the Uniform Rank of Pythians. There was a full attendance of the members of the four companies in Atlanta which constitute the first battalion, and in addition to a number of splendid drills there were addresses by the new colonel and the officers of the several companies.

Captain W. G. Moore, commanding Atlanta Company No. 2, acted as master of ceremonies and made an address on the work of the uniform rank, its social features, its benefits to the individual members and its value to the nation in time of war.

Colonel Ed L. Humphreys, retiring commander of the regiment, paid a high tribute to the regiment and to the new leader of the organization, Colonel Stokes. He predicted his success, and urged the men and officers to co-operate with him in making the second regiment one of the strongest units of the Georgia brigade, under the command of Brigadier General E. E. Pomeroy, who will formally assume charge in October.

This regiment is planning to attend the encampment in Athens next May at the grand lodge meeting of the Knights of Pythias, and also to attend the national meeting of the uniform rank in Nashville, Tenn., in the summer following.

Colonel Stokes outlined his program, the feature of which is to organize a complete regiment of twelve companies in Atlanta. In this he will have the hearty support of the officers of the four strong companies already organized here.

Among others who addressed the meeting were Lieutenant Colonel R. M. Eubanks, Dr. R. R. Daley, Colonel James L. Moore, Lieutenant Otis D. Witherspoon, Lieutenant J. M. Waters, Captain A. Cruickshank and Major B. L. Owens.

The schedule of weekly meetings to be held this fall by each of the companies was announced as follows:

Atlanta Company No. 2, Monday night.
Gate City No. 5 on Tuesday night.
Colonial Company No. 18 on Wednesday night.
Dixie Company No. 21 on Thursday night.

The armory has been overhauled and is now considered one of the most attractive and comfortable in the city.

DECATUR TO PLAN FOR PAGEANT AT MASS MEETING FRIDAY NIGHT

A mass meeting will be held at the courthouse in Decatur Friday night beginning at 8 o'clock to perfect plans for the one-day fair and pageant to be held in Decatur November 10.

Over one hundred invitations have been sent out to the citizens of the city and county by the board of trade asking them to be present and assist in making plans for fair and pageant.

It is intended to make the fair a mammoth harvest pageant, which will be participated in by the agricultural and industrial leaders of the county.

An interesting feature of the meeting will be the address to be delivered by Secretary-Manager E. Y. Clarke, of the Georgia Festival, to be held in Atlanta November 16. Mr. Clarke, as secretary of the Brooks County Industrial club, made possible the annual conventions in Quitman.

It is the purpose of the DeKalb county fair to include exhibits in every class of agricultural resource.

Plans for a mammoth parade, in which the farmers of the county will show their prowess, will be a feature of the discussion at Friday night's meeting. It is proposed to make the parade of floats one of the most gigantic pageants ever seen in Georgia. The parade will include all the members of the corn and canning clubs, the farmers and their wives, the children of the county and city schools, the civic authorities, county officials, Boy Scouts, Campfire Girls and other organizations. One of the best bands in the state will furnish music for the pageant and fair.

BUILDING OWNERS AND MANAGERS HAVE BIG TIME AT THEATER PARTY

Bob Knapp and Chris Cornelia, the popular vaudeville artists at the Forsyth theater this week, probably are glad that J. G. Morgan, millionaire delegate to the Building Owners and Managers' convention here, is a millionaire building owner and not a vaudeville artist to compete with them on each night's bill, for Mr. Morgan, for fifteen minutes last night at the Forsyth theater, gave a special song and dance number in which he proved the hit of the evening.

Mr. Morgan hails from Indianapolis. Last night the 300 delegates were the invited guests at the theater party of the Atlanta Association of Building Owners and Managers. Mr. Morgan consented to go before the footlights for a song and dance number.

He pulled a few old jokes, 'tis true, but his friends were with him, and the "crickets" would begin to "chirp" whenever the joke was "somewhat?" old. However, the worse the critic or the "crickets" can say for him is that he proved himself an exceptional comedian—a better comedian than singer or dancer. In fact, his dancing bordered on the ragged edge.

However, all the delegates had a big time, and when a song about Atlanta, which was composed by Mr. Morgan, was flashed on the screen by the camera man, led by the millionaire-comedian, the entire audience joined in the chorus to the tune of "Tipperary," singing the praise of Atlanta, as follows:

"It was a long way down to Atlanta,
It was a long way I know.
It was a long way to Atlanta,
But I'm glad I got to go."

CANDLER SCHOOL OF THEOLOGY OPENS WITH LARGE ATTENDANCE

The exercises attendant upon the opening of the Candler School of Theology were held last night in the Wesley Memorial church and were witnessed by a large audience, the faculty and the student body.

Bishop Warren A. Candler, chancellor of Emory university, made an interesting address based on the parable of the wise and foolish virgins. A solo by J. A. Sage, instructor of music, and special music by the choir were greatly enjoyed.

It was announced that the registered student body already was double that attending the theological courses last year, and the prospects were that this number would yet be increased.

Dean Durham also said that two new members of the faculty had arrived. They are Dr. F. N. Parker, who will have charge of systematic theology, and Professor Julius McGath, who will teach the courses in Hebrew. Dr. Parker comes to the university from the Louisiana conference of the Methodist church. He was formerly professor of Biblical literature at Trinity college. Professor McGath will take the place of Dr. Shelton, who is absent for the year studying at Chicago university. He is president of the Jewish Christian Alliance of America.

Registration of students is expected to be closed Thursday and the classroom routine will commence Friday.

Everybody Feeling Better.

Editor Constitution: We have less acreage and the shortest cotton crop ever made in this section.

If the crop in the south is like ours we should soon see cotton at 12 cents and normal conditions prevail in our land once more.

Our people are holding cotton, selling only part.

Everyone is feeling better.

RIPPLING RHYMES

By WALT MASON.

THE CONQUEROR.

Who is this man of stately mien, who gains applause where'er he wends, who makes a hit in every scene, who has all people for his friends? The rich and poor, the high and low, behold his coming with glad smiles, the women say he is a jo, the merchant princes lift their tiles. He is no soldier, who in vain a million quarts of blood has shed; he has not cluttered up the plain with ricks and windrows of his dead. He is no statesman who has held a senate breathless while he spieled, and he has never whooped and yelled throughout the broad chautauqua field. He is no author, who has made a book with fire in every line, that made Gene Stratton Porter fade, and H. Bell Wright take in his sign. Who is this man of lordly air, whom all the people thus applaud, and greet with fervor everywhere, whenever he may walk abroad? Why does he cut such scads of ice? What has he done that is sublime? He is the man who has the price—the man who pays his bills on time.

Catfish Prospects.

(From The Indianapolis News.)

When the waters subside in the streams of central Indiana cat fishing, it is predicted by fishermen who have studied the habits of that fish, will be better than it has been before for many a year. The best authorities on the habits of this denizen of the deep are of the colored race. They talk with special enthusiasm and gustatory relish of the channel cat which is so called because it prefers the channels of streams to sluggish waters and often reaches a length of two and one-half or three feet and a weight of twenty-five to thirty pounds. It is a fine food fish and the most gamey of the catfish family.

The best known of the smaller catfish, common from Maine to the far west and from the Great Lakes to Florida and Texas, is called by different local names. In the east and north it is called the bullhead and horned pout, in Pennsylvania the Schuylkill cat and farther south as the little cat. This fish is the delight of the boy fisherman. It prefers the earth worm to any kind of bait, but will bite voraciously at any food. It grows to a length of twelve to eighteen inches, is yellowing brown, more or less clouded with darker shades. The bullhead and mud cat require careful handling. They swallow the hook and the fisherman in recovering it is likely to be horned by the gill fins, which are sharp as needles.

The mud cat of the south sometimes reaches a weight of 75 pounds. It is of this fish that the southern negro sings:

"Don't talk to me o' bacon fat,
Of 'taters, coon, or 'possum,
Fo' when I'se hooked a yaller cat,
I'se got a meal to boss 'em"

Catfish have been caught in the Ohio and Mississippi rivers that reach a length of 4 1-2 feet and a weight of more than 150 pounds. This fish is known as the Mississippi cat. All catfish are furnished with barbels, beard-like appendages like the whiskers of a cat, and from them they get their name.

WEEVIL IS FOUND IN 24 COUNTIES

Webster, Sumter and Colquitt Added to List Wednesday, and Eight Others May Be Reported Soon.

Government to Aid.

Washington, September 15.—The department of agriculture has ordered every available cotton demonstration worker into southeastern Georgia and Florida to aid in halting an advance of the Mexican boll weevil, which has brought the pest to the edge of the valuable sea island cotton territory.

The wind attending the Galveston storm of a few weeks ago is blamed for the surprising advance. Coming just at the beginning of the migration period, the storm carried the weevil from Alabama 75 miles into Georgia in a few days. Ordinarily the average is from 35 to 50 miles a year.

For years efforts have been made to save sea island cotton from the ravages of the weevil. The lowlands are recognized as an ideal location for the weevils to hibernate.

Three more Georgia counties were yesterday added to the list of Georgia's boll weevil infested communities, making a total of twenty-four to date in which it has been discovered. It is said it is probably already in six or eight more.

The three new counties added to the list are Webster, Sumter and Colquitt. It is also feared, according to State Entomologist E. Lee Worsham, that it has crossed the line from Colquitt into Worth.

Prior to his departure from Thomasville last night, where he goes to prepare for the big boll weevil conference on Friday, September 17, Mr. Worsham received a communication from Dr. W. E. Hinds, state entomologist of Alabama, accompanied by some speciments of adult boll weevils from Muscogee county. Dr. Hinds was engaged in work near the state line, and came over into Georgia, where he made the discovery.

Mr. Worsham says the presence of adult weevils in Muscogee county, and probably in other sections, means that they are getting ready to travel, and because of the scarcity of food, owing to the very short top crop, they are liable to travel great distances. In that event many other counties are liable to be infested before the end of the present season.

Dr. Hinds has informed Mr. Worsham that he would be present at the Thomasville meeting. Dr. W. D. Pierce, of the United States bureau of entomology, will also be there. Dr. Pierce is a recognized boll weevil expert and will give the farmers valuable information and assistance.

J. L. Hand, of Pelham, was in Atlanta Wednesday and stated that Pelham would send a large delegation to the Thomasville meeting. Columbus, Albany and Fort Gaines are among the southwest Georgia cities which have announced that they will be strongly represented.

Commissioner of Agriculture J. D. Price will be among those attending from Atlanta. Others who have announced their purpose to go to Thomasville for this meeting are Dr. P. F. Bahnsen, state veterinarian; John S. Carroll and Judge John S. Candler.

Indications point to the fact that this will be both one of the most important and one of the largest agricultural meetings ever held in the state.

Halt, Lame and Blind Ask for Free Licenses From Tax Committee

The halt, the lame and the blind were before the tax committee of council yesterday afternoon. They wanted free licenses.

A blind man wanted to peddle coal; a poor widow, who had a sallow complexioned boy asleep in her lap, wanted a free license to run a lunch stand; a man without any legs asked for the privilege to peddle lead pencils; a one-armed man begged to be allowed to earn a living by selling matches and chewing gum; a one-legged boy asked for a license to shine shoes.

The members of the committee granted a free license in every case that deserved charity. That it is better to help paupers earn a living than to make the city support them was the opinion of the committee.

17-YEAR-OLD BOY KILLS BIG BEAR IN BIBB SWAMP

Macon, Ga., September 15.—(Special.) Oscar Paul, a 17-year-old boy of Bullards, had an exciting experinece with a big black bear in the Ocmulgee swamp, below Macon, today.

Paul was hunting squirrels when he spied the bear up a tree. He shot at him five times, which so ruffled the feelings of the bear that he came down out of the tree and started toward Paul. The lad fired two more shots, hitting Bruin both times. Then the bear turned to flee, but another shot from Paul's gun brought him down. The bear weighed 400 pounds.

A month ago another bear of about the same size was killed by a Houston county man.

COUNCILMEN FAVOR MOVE TO POSTPONE

There has been no organized campaign, and to carry bonds under the present two-thirds law the people must have their whole attention called to the importance of the issuance of bonds for public improvements. I believe the general council will take The Constitution's well-timed advice and vote next Monday to postpone the bond election."

Is the Part of Wisdom.

Councilman A. W. Farlinger, chairman of the finance committee, said:

"I think the bonds will certainly meet with defeat if the election is held on September 30. It is the part of wisdom, in my judgment, to postpone the election if the people want the bonds carried. The Constitution has spoken wisely."

Alderman C. H. Kelley said:

"If the people of Atlanta want the bonds carried and the many public improvements made, the general council will have to postpone the election. I will vote next Monday for a postponement."

Alderman J. R. Seawright: "I will vote for a postponement of the election. Just as The Constitution stated, to hold the election now will mean defeat, and we want bonds, and want them badly. If an election is held next spring with a well organized campaign there may be a good chance of carrying the bonds."

Alderman C. C. McDonald: "I am now in favor of postponing the bond election. We can't afford, as The Constitution says, to jeopardize the bond issue."

Will Change His Vote.

Councilman Jesse B. Lee: "I voted last time for the bond election to be held on September 30, but now I believe, just as The Constitution does, that to hold the election under the present registration will spell defeat."

Councilman Orville H. Hall: "Since I learned that fully 1,500 Jews may be disfranchised if the bond election is held on September 30, I am in favor of postponing the election. It may be the part of wisdom after all to wait a little if there is any danger of the bonds being defeated."

Councilman Jesse M. Wood: "I am now in favor of postponing the bond election. I believe The Constitution has presented the right view of the situation and I will do anything to help the bond issue."

Others Have the Same View.

These are some of the views of council members gathered at committee meetings Wednesday afternoon. It is believed that nearly all other members of council feel the same way.

Councilman Claud L. Ashley, who stood alone at the last meeting of council for a postponement of the bond election, says he felt almost certain that the election would be put off to some later date when the situation was seen in its proper light.

"I am thankful," he said, "that The Constitution has presented the matter in a way that leaves no room for doubt and that must convince the most skeptical that to hold the bond election this year will mean defeat. We are all for bonds and for the best interests of the city, but, just as The Constitution has stated, it would be utter folly to hold an election when there is no hope of success."

Council meets next Monday afternoon and an ordinance, repealing the bond advertising ordinance, will be introduced by Councilman Ashley, and that it will be adopted now seems to be a certainty.

SLEW TO PREVENT PURSUIT OF WIFE

disregard for the law, but I say that I thank God that I live in a state which rears men who will protect their homes and virtue of our women. This is just such a case—a living example of our code.

"If you find this defendant guilty, and hang him you could make no more effective wreck of him than Bishop has already wrought with the handiwork of a fiend incarnate. The man whose wife's love is lost is a blighted man. Any southern man whose home is ruined has but little to live for, and is wholly justified in the eyes of law and mankind in demanding payment in the life of the vandal. For he has done the part of a man. He has done no more than either you or I would do."

Attorney Howard was able to make only thirty minutes' address before court adjourned. He occupied his time painting a vivid word-picture of the early happiness of the defendant and his wife during the days they struggled to make a living on a farm near Scottdale, and during which time the child, a boy of 4 years, was born.

WASHES WIFE'S DISHES, THEN COMMITS SUICIDE

Statham, Ga., September 15.—(Special.)—G. W. McGee, a respected farmer of this place, committed suicide last night by drinking carbolic acid. His wife had made some remarks about going to a neighbor's house to call and he insisted that she go and said he would wash the dishes. When she returned about 10 o'clock she found him dead. Before committing the act he had carried out his promises to his wife, leaving the dining room and kitchen nicely arranged, with the dishes washed.

He was about 50 years of age and leaves a wife and several children. Despondency, caused by bad health and business worries, is supposed to have caused the act.

POLICE SEARCHING FOR DEMENTED MAN

Relatives Fear That J. M. Mann, of East Atlanta, 76 Years Old, Has Met With Some Accident.

Police and detectives, aided by hundreds of citizens of East Atlanta, are searching for J. M. Mann, 76 years of age and partially demented, who eluded guardians at the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. R. Rosser, shortly after 2 o'clock Wednesday morning and had not been heard of up until midnight Wednesday.

Mr. Mann had been one of the most prominent residents of East Atlanta. After the death of his wife last spring his mental condition became greatly impaired through brooding over her death.

Since the death of his wife Mr. Mann has been living with his niece, Mrs. J. M. Bloodworth, in East Atlanta. Several days ago he became so mentally feeble and at the same time so erratic in his actions that it was thought best by his niece and her husband to have him taken to the jail at Decatur, Ga.

It was stated that Mrs. Rosser could not stand the idea of her aged father being locked up in jail and made arrangements to have him taken care of at her home until he could be brought back to health through medical treatment.

Mr. Mann was in the room with Mr. Rosser, his son-in-law, shortly before 2 o'clock. Mr. Rosser either dozed off for a second or was asleep and did not hear his father-in-law get up and dress.

The Rossers aroused neighbors and a searching party was organized. Others were pressed into service and soon everyone in that section of the city was looking for him.

At 8 o'clock Wednesday morning it was reported that Mr. Mann had been seen going into the gate of the East Lake Country club.

It was stated to members of one posse that he had made inquiries concerning the end of the East Lake car line of some boys he had passed.

Shortly before noon, police headquarters was notified and by order of Chief Mayo, all patrolmen on all watches were instructed to keep a sharp lookout for the man answering to the description given by the Rossers, and men were detailed to hunt for him.

It is feared that he went to East Lake and there met with some accident. Basing actions on that theory, the lake will be dragged today if Mr. Mann has not been heard of.

Mr. Mann was for twenty years a leading farmer in DeKalb county and looked up to by other farmers as an authority on scientific farming.

Mr. Rosser, his son-in-law, is proprietor of an East Atlanta dairy and also prominent in the community where he lives.

The description given police headquarters was that Mr. Mann was dressed in a black suit, was large framed and had iron grey whiskers and hair.

GERMANY IS OBJECTING TO BLACK-BROWN TROOPS

Berlin, September 15.—(Via London, September 16.)—The foreign office has just issued in English a memorial against the employment of black and brown troops in the European theater of the war by France and Great Britain on the ground that they have brought with them savage practices of warfare of their native countries.

The memorial charges the Africans and Hindoos with murdering the wounded and mutilating the dead.

The charges are supported by numerous documents.

Affidavits submitted in an appendix reproduce the famous protest in the house of commons by the Earl of Chatham (William Pitt) against the employment of Indians in the American revolution.

The memorial concludes with a solemn protest by the German government in the interest of civilization against the employment of these troops in Europe. It says this is contrary to the spirit of all international agreements of the past two decades, which make it the duty of civilized peoples to lessen the inherent evils of warfare.

ASIA MINOR GREEKS BEG GREECE FOR AID

Athens, September 15.—(Via London.)—The Greek government is in receipt of resolutions passed September 5 at a mass meeting of natives of Asia Minor and Thrace, held at Kavala, European Turkey, protesting against "arbitrary dispossessions, cruelties, tortures, shameful indignities, forced conversions to Islamism, even murders, which Greeks in Asia Minor and Thrace are suffering."

Greece is beseeched to intervene because those adopting the resolutions "see no where else any other means of safety."

Copies of the resolutions have been sent to the diplomatic representatives of the great European powers, the United States and the Balkan states for communication to their respective governments.

BISHOP CANDLER DELIVERS ADDRESS AT EMORY OPENING

Emory College, Oxford, Ga., September 15.—(Special.)—Emory college, the school of liberal arts of Emory university, opened auspiciously Wednesday morning. The devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. Mr. Walker, of the Memphis conference. A powerful address was delivered by the chancellor, Bishop Warren A. Candler. The chancellor made clear the important position now occupied by the educational institutions of the south and the splendid opportunity Emory university has in the educational world.

Dean W. S. Elkins, of the Atlanta Medical college, made a special talk to the more than thirty pre-medical students who have already arrived.

The enrollment of students will not be finished before Thursday afternoon, but there are already forty to fifty more new men than there were at the opening last session. The academy has already enrolled about fifty students.

RUSSIA WAS CRIPPLED BY GERMAN TREACHERY

Traitor Destroyed Great Munitions Factory and Army Was Left in Bad Plight.

London, September 15.—The Daily News says it was through German treachery that the great Russian ammunition factory at Okhta, a suburb of Petrograd, was blown to pieces some months ago. Okhta was the Russian Woolwich—the only munition factory in Russia.

"This had a determining influence on the Russian military situation," The Daily News says, "as the allies had to come to the rescue by the circuitous Archangel route. Thousands of workmen were killed and the destruction of the plant caused such an extreme dearth of ammunition that nothing could be done against the German General von Mackensen's artillery.

"Russia, quite crippled, had to fight for time and the striking power of France and Great Britain was checked. All thought of the proposed great spring offensive had to be given up and the chief energies of the allies bent to the task of supplying Russia with munitions which suddenly had become to her a matter of life and death."

A dispatch from Petrograd April 30 last said that several persons had been killed and many others injured and much material damage done as the result of an explosion in the Okhta ammunition factory.

It was added that several workships were destroyed by the explosion, but that the stores of loaded shells were not affected and that work in the factory would be resumed in a few days.

EIGHT WAR VESSELS HELD UP THE PORTLAND

New York, September 15.—The American steamer Portland arrived here today from Swedish and British ports after having been held up by eight war vessels on her eastward and westward trips. The freighter sailed from San Francisco, several months ago, with a cargo of barley, beans and dried fruits, consigned to Stockholm and carrying a British consular certificate providing against interference.

One June 14 the Portland was held up by a British cruiser, taken to Kirkwall, and four days later discharged a part of her cargo at Blyth. She then started for Stockholm, but was held up twice by German submarines, which took part of the cargo. From Stockholm the Portland sailed for England, and was held up by two more German submarines. After leaving Gravesend three British destroyers held up the Portland before she was clear of the war zone.

ALABAMA TO CONTROL ALL WIRE COMPANIES

Montgomery, Ala., September 15.—By the terms of a bill which passed the senate today after having been favorably voted on by the house, the senate public service commission is given the power to regulate charges, services and facilities of telephone and telegraph companies in Alabama. An effort to have Birmingham excluded from the provisions of the bill failed.

COURTROOM IS SCENE OF FISTIC ENCOUNTER

Solicitor Lowry Arnold and Geo. Cunningham Come to Blows.

Thrills were injected into an exciting trial for speeding in Judge Andy Calhoun's court yesterday afternoon when the defendant, George Cunningham, an auto salesman, and Solicitor Lowry Arnold engaged in a fistic encounter.

The fight took place in the courtroom just before the trial began, and another fight, this time between Cunningham and Policeman Carter, who made the case, was narrowly averted while the trial was on.

The trouble between the solicitor and the defendant was the result of a disagreement over the time when the case should be tried and over the jurors who should try it.

Solicitor Arnold says Cunningham wanted his case tried ahead of others, and that when he acceded to this request Cunningham declined to strike from seven jurors, so the solicitor started another case first. The defendant was threatening and bullying in his attitude, according to the solicitor.

Cunningham charged favoritism in the manner of calling cases, said that he objected to drawing a jury from the seven men left, as two were "absolutely objectionable to me," and declared that Arnold told him he was nothing but a "bully."

The argument between the solicitor and Cunningham grew warm and resulted in the solicitor rising from his chair and hitting the defendant in the face, while the defendant, according to his own statement, was still in his chair. The two combatants then passed a blow or so, before they were separated.

The Cunningham case was then called and the defendant decided to be his own attorney and proceeded to defend his case. Trouble came near developing between the defendant and the arresting officer when he told Judge Calhoun that he "was merely trying to prove Carter a liar."

Carter advanced menacingly toward the defendant-counsel, when he was stopped by persons within the enclosure. Judge Calhoun administered a rebuke, advising Cunningham to show more respect for the court.

A warrant charging assault and battery was sworn out by Cunningham in municipal court against Solicitor Arnold, and it will be given a hearing today. Cunningham's case was continued by Judge Calhoun until this afternoon.

In Order to Get $17.82 Geo. J. Gould Forecloses On His Brother's Property

New York, September 15.—Supreme Court Justice Donnelly today directed the sale of a plot of ground at Fifth avenue and Seventy-third street, of which Howard Gould is owner of record and against which George J. Gould instituted foreclosure proceedings when his brother failed to pay $17.82 interest on a tax lien.

Mrs. Katherine C. Gould, who obtained a legal separation from Howard Gould several years ago, contested the foreclosure, contending that if George Gould was allowed to foreclose she would lose her dower right in the property, valued at more than $1,000,000.

George Gould testified his only reason for foreclosing was that he wanted the $17.82, "because I do not want the interest to mount up, even if Howard Gould is my brother."

SYRIANS ARE DECLARED "FREE WHITE PERSONS"

Charleston, S. C., September 15.—According to an official message from Richmond, Va., the United States circuit court of appeals has reversed the decision of United States District Judge Henry A. M. Smith, of Charleston, who ruled that he doubted whether Syrians were "free white persons" in his interpretation of an old statute. George Dow, in whose name this case has been brought, is a Syrian merchant at Summerton, S. C. A Syrian national organization undertook the appeal. Judge Smith did not declare that Syrians were not of the white race, but that as he interpreted the law he could not assert that they were.

The point involved was whether Syrians were entitled to citizenship in this country.

MENDENHALL INDICTED FOR A DOUBLE MURDER

Accused of Killing Mother and Daughter—Intimacy With Girl Alleged.

Clearwater, Fla., Septemebr 15.—The Pincalas county grand jury this morning returned a true bill against J. J. Mendenhall for the murder of Mrs. Bessie Eliot and her daughter, Miss Susie Eliot, of Tampa. Mendenhall is a prominent business man. The two women were of a prominent family.

The alleged murder of the two women occurred on the night of July 2 on the old Green Springs road, several miles from here. The only witness of the crime was Guy Stemple, a chauffeur, whose car Mendenhall hired to take the two women for a ride. Stemple said he leaped from the car when Mendenhall struck one of the women and that Mendenhall fired at him with a revolver. He met another automobile and came on here, taking the officers to the scene of the crime, where the charred remains of the two women were found in the burning ruins of the car.

Mendenhall's alleged intimacy with the younger woman and a threat of prosecution on the white slavery charge are the alleged reasons for the supposed double murder.

Arrested as Slaver.

Rome, Ga., September 15.—(Special.) Joseph Norrell, a white man, was arrested yesterday at Guntersville, Ala., on a federal warrant charging him with violation of the Mann white slave law. He is said to have taken a young white girl from Rome to Attalla, stopping at a hotel there with her and registering her as his wife.

ELLISON IS FOUND WITH CUT ON HEAD; STILL UNCONSCIOUS

Up until a late hour Wednesday night William Ellison, aged 67, of 74 East Mitchell street, who was found lying unconscious in the basement of the Gould building Wednesday morning, had not regained consciousness.

Ellison is employed at the Gould building and was found early in the morning by a negro barber connected with the place. A cut on the man's head, and information to the effect that he was subject to attacks of paralysis, lead physicians at Grady hospital to believe that the accident happened during one of those attacks.

Owners of Buildings Should Pay Close Attention to Character of Tenants, Says Asa G. Candler.

C. A. Patterson, of Chicago, editor of "Buildings and Building Management," and E. H. Doyle, millionaire office building owner of Detroit, Mich., who are two of the delegates to the eighth national convention of Building Owners and Managers, now in session at the Piedmont hotel, declared Wednesday, when the registration passed the 300 mark, that the Atlanta convention was the biggest of all preceding seven conventions.

"Everybody is having a better time than at any previous convention," said Mr. Patterson. "Honestly, I have never had such a good time in all my life. The Atlanta people, and especially the Atlanta Association of Building Owners and Managers, are doing everything possible that could make the delegates have a good time."

"This is a great city," said Mr. Doyle, "and no wonder Ty Cobb comes from such a state as Georgia, when the capital is like Atlanta."

Barbecue for Today.

There is a big barbecue in store for the convention delegates and those Atlantans, who are registered, today at Stone Mountain. Everybody will gather at the Piedmont hotel at 11:30 o'clock and march to the Union depot, where they will board a special train of the Georgia railroad, leaving at 12 o'clock for Stone Mountain. Besides music, dancing, mountain climbing and viewing one of the seven wonders of the world, and barbecue, the delegates will hear a few speeches. The special train will return at 5 o'clock.

But, besides having a good time Wednesday, the delegates spent the larger part of the day diligently studying out the problems which confront the manager and owner of the modern skyscraper.

The delegates were entertained last night at the Forsyth theater, and the ladies spent the day motoring about the city to points of interest and lunching at the East Lake Country club.

The afternoon session was presided over by Vice President Charles E. Doty, of Cleveland, while President J. E. Randell, of Chicago, slipped away to see the wonders of Atlanta on his first auto trip over the city.

E. S. Jewell, of Omaha, Neb., was the principal speaker of the afternoon session, reading the report of the floor measurement committee, which was unanimously adopted by the convention, amid applause.

Asa Candler's Speech.

At the morning session Charles E. Doty was the first speaker, and was followed by Asa G. Candler, Atlanta capitalist, and owner of more office buildings in more different cities than any of the other delegates to the convention.

President Randell introduced Mr. Candler as the man who had given more "drink" to the people than Moses did to the Jewish tribe. Mr. Candler addressed the delegates on the subject of "The Property Owner."

He declared that the local problems of building and handling office buildings were too individual in aspect for any set dogmas to be laid down for the management of buildings. He added, though, that the builder had many common interests at stake.

"One great principle underlies all property building," said Mr. Candler. "Man is but a tenant at will of God Almighty, subject to the trust of That One, and His approval. He has placed all these great skyscrapers at our disposal as a sacred trust.

"Man must not forget that God in placing properties in his charge selects them as His stewards.

"Certain moral maxims make for success in building ownership, as in trade and commerce.

"The growth of the skyscraper is explained by the middleman, as is explained the rise of the great warehouse. Skyscrapers are increased in importance every day—from them flow human streams of trade activity. It is the duty of the owner of skyscrapers to look to the character of his tenants. The buildings of any city should express not only the products of the people, but the character of the people themselves, and the men who own them.

"How shall these great buildings, that bespeak so much, be managed? These are problems for your association to solve.

At the conclusion of Mr. Candler's speech, a vote of thanks was given by rising on the part of the delegates.

Poter's Address.

E. M. Potter, supervising engineer of the Douglas Robinson, Charles S. Brown company, of New York city, who, although one of the youngest delegates represents $65,000,000 worth of metropolitan skyscrapers and tenement houses, was introduced by President Randell. He spoke on the subject of "Service in Skyscrapers."

His paper showed careful preparation, and proved to be one of the most instructive read before the skyscraper delegates so far.

Mr. Potter, from an expert viewpoint, went into every practical phase of building management. He reviewed the rapid growth in New York city of the loft-building business which has sprung up in the last five years.

He declared that the problem of fire protection for tenants of office buildings was one of serious concern for owners, not only on account of the moral aspect, but due to the great economical savings in reduced insurance premiums.

He concluded his speech by the statement that the sooner owners realize the full meaning of better service they will receive full returns on their investments.

There are a number of unusual exhibits of skyscraper supplies on the ninth floor of the Piedmont hotel, among which is the exhibit of the Hockaday company, of Chicago, decorators of office building walls. G. A. Beem, of Chicago, is in charge of the exhibit. Mr. Beem is giving away to each delegate a beautiful and useful souvenir, which is a desk clock and calendar. The works of the clock souvenir cost $2.40 each. J. H. Hirsch is the local representative of the Hockaday system.

Guy H. Wright, manager of the Wright building, of St. Louis, is heading the St. Louis delegation, which consists of about fifteen and several ladies. The St. Louis delegation is making a big pull for next year's convention, having been defeated last year by Atlanta.

"I have asked for this convention for six years," said Mr. Wright, "and I expect to get it this time."

The convention will end Friday, on which day the convention city for next year will be chosen.

ATLANTA WOMEN TO KNOW THE NAMES OF GODCHILDREN SOON

Dr. F. E. May, executive secretary of the Georgia War Relief committee for France and her allies, announces to Atlanta ladies who have agreed to be godmothers to homeless French soldiers fighting in the trenches, that the names of their proteges will be here next Monday.

Dr. May is in receipt of a cable from France stating that the names have been posted and will be in Atlanta by that time. He also states that he has received expressions of appreciation from the Parisian women who are carrying on the godmother movement.

As executive secretary of the Georgia War Relief committee, Dr. May also states that the ambulance which is being equipped for the French front by Georgia physicians will be shipped to New York the latter part of October and with similar vehicles being presented to France by Countess de Tavara, living in New York, will be dispatched direct to France.

You're bilious, sluggish, constipated and believe you need vile, dangerous calomel to start your liver and clean your bowels.

Here's my guarantee! Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone and take a spoonful tonight. If it doesn't start your liver and straighten you right up better than calomel and without griping or making you sick I want you to go back to the store and get your money.

Take calomel today and tomorrow you will feel weak and sick and nauseated. Don't lose a day's work. Take a spoonful of harmless, vegetable Dodson's Liver Tone tonight and wake up feeling great. ONE GALLON OF LIQUOR ALLOWED PER MONTH

To a South Carolinian Under Prohi Law Adopted at Tuesday's Election.

Columbia, S. C., September 15.—Later returns from the liquor question election held yesterday throughout South Carolina made no material change in the results, the last figures still giving state-wide prohibition a majority of about 20,000.

The figures as compiled tonight stand: For prohibition, 35,232; against prohibition, 14,907. The total will not be greatly over 55,000 votes.

The law under which yesterday's election was held was passed at the last session of the legislation. It provided for a referendum on the question, with state-wide prohibition and county option under the dispensary system as the alternatives.

By yesterday's election the people chose state-wide prohibition to take effect January 1, 1916. All dispensaries—fifteen counties now have dispensaries, the others being dry by previous votes—must be closed on or before December 31, next. Dispensary boards were forbidden to purchase stock after the election and several have laid in large supplies, anticipating that prohibition would win at the polls.

After January 1, South Carolina's potations must be limited to one gallon a month, a law passed by the legislature prohibitiong the shipment of more than that quantity to any one person in one month.

With the passing of the last of the county dispensaries will come the end of the system inaugurated under the leadership of United States Senator B. R. Tillman, then governor, in 1893, The system as originally in force was under state control, but in 1907 it was changed to county control, with county option between dispensaries and prohibition.

Charleston Stocked With Liquor.

Charleston, S. C., September 15.—Complete returns from Dorchester indicate that it was Charleston's only companion in voting yesterday against state-wide prohibition. The majority against prohibition was 51. The passage of state-wide prohibition means that county dispensaries will be discontinued December 31. Anticipating the result of the election the Charleston county dispensary board placed orders for wet goods to the total of $250,000.

GROSSMAN TO WIND UP FLAG LEAGUE AFFAIRS

Following a conference with the president, secretary and treasurer of the Flag league, the Florida-Georgia league of professional baseball clubs, Leonard J. Grossman, attorney for the organization, left Atlanta for Waycross, Americus, Brunswick, and if necessary, other towns on the circuit, to straighten out some of the legal tangles, the consequence of a hard season for the league.

While in Brunswick he will confer with Mayor J. H. Hopkins, president of the Brunswick Baseball corporation. In a public-spirited letter, Mayor Hopkins says it is up to the people of Brunswick to show their town spirit by getting up the guarantee fund which should have been paid the league before the opening of the season, but which President Dick Jemison consented to waive until the season got under way so as to remove a stumbling block to organized baseball in Brunswick and the other cities where money was tight.

The sport writers of the state unite in the hope that it is hard times and not lack of honor or appreciation among sportsmen and ball fans that is responsible for conditions in the Flag league. Far worse than the hundreds of dollars Mr. Jemison will lose if the ball clubs do not come clean is the blight on every city in the league which will forever be barred from playing professional ball if guarantee money remains unpaid.

LITTLE PROSPECT SEEN FOR EUROPEAN PEACE

Washington, September 15.—President Wilson was told today by Dr. Aletta H. Jacobs, of Amsterdam, Holland, that there is little prospect of European peace. Dr. Jacobs was one of the delegates to the Women's Peace conference held at The Hague several months ago.

Dr. Jacobs talked with the president about the plan of women peace advocates for united action for peace through the United States and other neutral nations. She said later that she did not expect the president would take any steps immediately.

ROCKEFELLER GIVES FOR DRUG ADDICTS

New York, September 15.—John D. Rockefeller, Jr., through the Rockefeller Bureau of Social Hygiene, sent an $18,000 check today to Miss Katherine B. Davis, commissioner of corrections, toward the cost of erecting a hospital for drug habitues on Riker's island. This and a donation of $10,000 by Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt will enable the commissioner to go ahead with the work.

The new hospital, which will accommodate 132 patients, will care for the influx of drug users to city institutions as the result of the enforcement of the new laws prohibiting the sale of habit forming drugs.

NEUTRAL VESSEL SUNK BY GERMAN SUBMARINE

London, September 15.—The destruction of another neutral vessel by a German submarine is reported by Reuter's correspondent at Copenhagen. According to his dispatch, the motor schooner Norte, of Christiania, was blown up near Rio Nazo, off the Norwegian coast in the North sea. The crew was saved.

The only vessel named Norte and owned in Christiania which is given in maritime records is a small steamer flying the Brazilian flag. Her port of registry was Para, Brazil.

MORE COLONIAL TROOPS FOR THE FRENCH ARMY

Paris, September 15.—"Fighting continuously in Africa since last September along a front of more than 2,000 miles, French colonials, aided by the British allies, have obtained remarkable results," said Gaston Doumergue, minister of colonies, to the Associated Press today.

"German East Africa," the minister continued, "soon will be the only colony possessed by Germany, except a small part of the Kameruns. The other German possessions either are occupied by the French or English or conjointly.

Discussing proposals for raising more native troops for operations next spring, M. Doumergue said:

"I hope that we will be able to add still more colonial troops to the force of 70,000 Senegalese riflemen who are on the firing line, whether in France, Morocco or the Kameruns and in Western Africa. It is indeed wonderful to see the way in which the natives have responded to the mother country's call, and their absolute devotion to the great cause. All the colonies have sent more than their quota of troops, and many more are eager to come.

"This is due to their childlike faith in their commanders, who have rendered our successes in the Kameruns possible. I learn, in this connection, that many native troops fighting wtih Germany have crossed over to our side."

"I paint things as I see them," said Dobbster, complacently, as the critic inspected his "Moonlight on the Hudson."

"Interesting!" said the critic. "Have you ever thought of consulting an oculist, Dobbster?"—Life.

COLUMBUS CITY COURT OFFICERS NAMED TODAY

Judge, Clerk and Marshal to Be Chosen—Eleven in Running.

Columbus, Ga., September 15.—(Special.)—Today marked the climax of a spirited campaign incident to the creation of the new municipal court, as tomorrow the primary election will be held, at which the judge, clerk and marshal of this court will be selected.

The various candidates—eleven in all—have made a very energetic campaign, and busy scenes were witnessed today, the last day of canvassing. While the campaign has been strenuous, it has all been in the best of humor, and has been marked by pleasantries. One of the five candidates for marshal remarked humorously that if they did not mind "some good man would come out and beat them all."

The candidates for judge of the municipal court are John H. Lewis, William deL. Worsley and S. T. Pinkston; the candidates for clerk of the municipal court are Henry K. Gammon, J. R. Germany and W. H. Speer, and the candidates for marshal are J. R. Beahn, C. A. Gibson, B. G. Martin, J. M. Huling and M. L. Comer.

German has an unfinished run of 197 straight for two days and Henderson has broken 125 straight.

J. M. Hawkins and German led the field in the Westy Hogan introductory at 75 targets, each breaking straight. Of the amateurs Woolfolk Henderson, R. H. Bruns, of Brookville, Ind; Allen Heil, Allentown, and William R. Ridley, of Whatcheer, La., tied at 74 for high.

The New York state team won the interstate match with 483 breaks against Pennsylvania's 482.

PLAYERS DRAFTED ARE NOT ANNOUNCED

Cincinnati, September 15.—The annual drafting of baseball players from minor leagues into major league clubs took place today at the September meeting here of the National Baseball commission. Tomorrow the commission will take up a number of other matters, all of minor importance, according to Secretary Bruce.

The drafts made today were not made public, although copies were delivered to the representatives of all major league clubs.

Those present at today's meeting were:

National League—August Herrmann, Cincinanti; C. H. Ebbets, Brooklyn; W. F. Baker, Philadelphia; C. H. Thomas, Chicago; H. N. Hempstead, New York; John B. Foster, New York, and S. P. Britton, St. Louis.

American League—R. L. Hedges, St. Louis; T. Huston, New York; H. Grabiner, Chicago; J. C. McDairmid, St. Louis, and Joe Kelly, New York.

BIG SUGAR PURCHASES MADE BY GREAT BRITAIN

New York, September 15.—Further sales of refined sugar were reported for export today, the purchases of the British commission being estimated at about 10,000 tons. The price today was said to have been not over 4.05 for granulated, or about five points under the price named in connection with yesterday's sale of 35,000 tons to the same buyers.

Notwithstanding this appearance of expert interest, domestic business continued quiet. The list price was unchanged and buyers were reported to be holding off because of the unsettled condition of the raw sugar market.

RED SMITH FIGHTS WITH UMPS BYRON

Atlanta Boy Comes to Blows With Arbiter as Braves Lose.

Chicago, September 15.—A fist fight between Umpire Byron and "Red" Smith, third baseman of the Boston Braves, marked the final game of the year between Chicago and Boston today. Chicago won 1 to 0.

At the conclusion of the game Smith rushed up to Byron and the arbiter walked to meet him. Both exchanged words and Byron dodged around several of those who had gathered and lunged at Smith. He apparently made two swings and was rushing his man when big Bill James, the Boston pitcher, put his arms about the umpire and lifted him to one side.

Smith came back swinging wildly and Umpire Orth attempted to stop him. Smith was infuriated and seemed about to hit Orth when his teammates stepped into the fray and escorted Smith to the clubhouse. The umpire then walked to the dressing room. Several hundred fans cheered Byron.

Byron refused to comment on the battle. Several of those close to the participants said Smith was "riding" Byron because of his decisions on balls and strikes and that the two had engaged in strong personalities before coming together. The Braves have a fighting chance for the National league pennant and already have three of their regulars out of the lineup. These are Schmidt, Maranville and Snodgrass.

Today's game was won by Frank Schulte, who drove a liner over the screen in right field for the only run of the game. This lone tally, coupled with the masterly pitching of Phil Douglass, who pitched his first game for the locals since coming here from Brooklyn, were enough to win. Douglass allowed but three hits and struck out ten.

Crackers Climb Into First Division

Vols Are Beaten And Locals Pass Them in Standing

For the First Time This Season the Crackers Get in the First Division—Perry Hurls Well.

The Crackers opened their road trip in Nashville yesterday by defeating the Nashville Vols 4 to 3 in a hot pitchers' battle between Scott Perry and Floyd Kroh.

Kroh's support wavered when there were Crackers on the bases in position to score and the locals rushed across the platter with the winning runs. Perry allowed more hits than Kroh, but he kept them fairly well scattered.

By defeating the Volunteers the locals again reached the .500 mark, and to pass it for the first time during the season is their aim in the game today. They have been able to reach .500 several times this season, but never seem quite able to rush across that mark.

Incidentally, the locals moved up into the first division for the first time this season as the result of the victory. A victory today will, therefore, give them double incentive. It will break their jinx and it will fairly firmly establish them in a first division berth with chances of finishing higher.

The Crackers played splendid ball on the defense behind Perry, killing what chances the Vols had with pretty double plays, Kauffman figuring in one that killed a man at the plate, while it was his stick that helped win the game for the locals.

Thompson will probably face Kissinger in today's game.

GRANT AND THORNTON DOUBLES CHAMPIONS

After being postponed several times, due to various reasons, the final match of the doubles round of the eleventh annual Georgia state tennis tourney was finished yesterday afternoon at the Driving club, Grant and Thornton winning over Orr and Carter in straight sets, 6-3, 9-7.

It was decided to play the best two out of three sets. One of these was played Monday, Grant and Thornton winning, 6-3. The second set was 2 and 1 when it was again postponed on account of rain.

Starting off with the score 2 all Wednesday, the two teams staged a corking good match. The first two games were divided. Carter and Orr then won the next two, having the set withing one game, but Grant and Thornton won the next two and tied the score. The former team won the eleventh game, but the twelfth went to Grant and Thornton. The thirteenth and fourteenth games were decided the same way. Then with the count seven all, Grant and Thornton won the match, by winning the next two games, making the count stand finally 9-7.

"CRUCIAL SERIES" HAS BOBBED UP AGAIN

New York, September 15.—The Red Sox and the Tigers will begin their final series of the season at Boston tomorrow, with the Red Sox leading by two games, the Tigers having cut down Boston's advantage today by winning their fourth straight game from New York while Boston dropped their game to Chicago.

In the National league, Brooklyn, although not playing, went into a tie for second place again with Boston, as both Boston and Philadelphia each lost. The Phillies lead Brooklyn tonight by considerably more than four games.

The outcome of the four-day series at Boston will be watched with much interest, but although the result virtually may dispose of Detroit as a pennant contender or may put the Tigers in the lead, there are many who believe the race may not definitely be decided until the last few days of the season.

The Red Sox took a majority of the games from the Tigers in their last series at Detroit. They meet the Tigers this time on their home grounds, with a decided advantage in the standing. The Red Sox have what is generally considered an excellent pitching staff, while the Tigers are weak in this respect. For these reasons many consider the Red Sox a strong favorite.

The Philadelphia Nationals, who broke a winning streak today by losing to Pittsburg, go to Cincinnati tomorrow for a short series with Herzog's Reds, who have been going strong recently and are trying hard to secure a berth in the first division.

AMATEUR TITLE.

Agogas Play Bank Boys on Saturday.

Even though the Crackers have closed their 1915 season locally, Ponce de Leon will be the scene of one hectic game of ball Saturday afternoon. The Agogas and the Atlanta National bank will tie up in the deciding game of the series between them for the amateur championship of the local amateur association.

These two teams have played three games, and each has won one, while the second game of the series resulted in a tie. The bank boys won the first, requiring ten innings to win a 2 to 1 victory. The following game resulted in a tie, 3 to 3, ten innings again being played. On last Saturday, the Agogas evened the series by winning by a count of 10 to 0.

The admission fee will be 25 cents.

PROFESSIONAL VIEWS ON COTTON SITUATION

New York, September 15.—(Special.)—Cables this morning were better than due and our market opened at a new high level. Where there was, of course, heavy realizing there appeared to be a considerable demand from spot people from the south which absorbed the early offerings, and later in the day on a rather poor Texas report from the weather bureau, together with heavy rains in west Texas, reaching 5½ inches at one point, there was an increase in the outside demand so that the market closed at the highest point of the season. As yet there is little or no pressure from the south, in fact advices report a good demand for spots in the country, but it is well to remember that at this season of the year the cotton sold by the south, if sold in volume, may at any time bring about a substantial reaction in prices.

HUBBARD BROS.

New York, September 15.—(Special.)—While liquidation was heavy today in this market, the general desire to buy cotton absorbed these offerings at rising prices and held the tone steady at all times.

Southern advices as to the demand for spot cotton continues strong and this fact encouraged buying in the future markets.

The weekly weather report, while favorable for all states except Texas, created very little selling, and after its issuance prices reached new high levels, while the steady buying of the past four weeks has undoubtedly built up a large long interest, the market as yet shows no underlying weakness, although its technical position must be favorable to a reaction at any time now.

Light offerings depressed the list in the afternoon, closing was easy, 1 to 6 points lower. Sales, 4,800 tons.

Cotton Seel Oil.

New York, September 15.—After selling higher, cotton seed oil had a sharp setback under profit-taking, but again firmed up on renewed buying for outside long account and covering by pit shorts, inspired by advancing crude prices and the strength in cotton. Final prices were 1 to 13 points higher. Sales, 30,700 barrels.

Coffee.

New York, September 15.—The market for coffee futures was very quiet today, sales being reported for only 3,500 bags. Prices, however, held generally steady and after opening unchanged the market closed net unchanged to 2 points higher.

GRAINS DOWNTURN; PROVISIONS VARIED

Hedging Sales and Poor Foreign Inquiry Depress Wheat--Oats and Corn Recede in Sympathy.

Chicago, September 15.—Heavy hedging sales in the northwest and lower quotations from Liverpool caused a break today in prices here. The market, although steady at the close, was ¾ to 1½@1⅝ net lower, with September at 100½ and December at 94@94⅛. Corn finished ⅛ off to a shade advance, oats ⅛ to ¼ down, and provisions varying from 2½ decline to a like upturn.

Reports of much increased pressure from the spring crop movement, especially at the Minneapolis terminal, formed the chief handicap against the bulls in wheat. The effect of lower cables, however, had precedence in the matter of time, and was accompanied by advices that British traders seemed to have adopted a waiting attitude and were apparently relying on greatly enlarged receipts soon both in the United States and Canada. Announcement was also made that the official estimate of the Canadian yield was nearly twice as large as last year's total.

Only a slight recovery from the bottom prices of the day took place in wheat. The highest prices of the session were obtained shortly after the opening, and were due to unwelcome rains. Export business amounting to 400,000 bushels, principally Manitoba, did not appear to be of sufficient volume to give any noticeable encouragement to the bulls.

Light frosts in the northern part of the corn belt deterred speculators from selling corn freely. The weakness of wheat, however, acted throughout the session as weight on prices.

The oats market was dominated almost wholly by the changes in the value of corn. A fair shipping demand tended somewhat to have a steadying effect.

Selling by packers largely overcame a rather decided advance in provisions. Investment buying, active cash inquiry and the fact that hog products were at a new high level for the year were reasons for the temporary upturn.

Remarks.

Summary of weather and crop conditions in the cotton belt for the week ending September 14, 1915:

Washington, September 15.—Much warmer and generally dry weather was favorable for the most of the cotton belt and the crop made satisfactory progress except in Texas. Bolls are opening fast, picking is general and is progressing rapidly. Improvement in conditions is noted, in many portions, especially in North Carolina, Arkansas and Oklahoma, where previous cool weather had been harmful. In Texas the crop failed to respond satisfactorily to good weather; little improvement is noted and weevils are increasing. Prospects for top crop are poor in many sections, especially in Georgia and Texas. Fall truck in southern districts is doing fairly well, but more moisture is needed in some sections, and the citrus fruits of Florida need rain.—Martin.

C. F. von HERRMANN,
Section Director Weather Bureau.

Dry Goods.

New York, September 15.—Cotton goods were active and higher today, with yarns firm and active. Wool products were very firm. Silks were active in the wholesale division. Burlaps were feverish and rising. Laces were active.

New York, September 15.—Heavy realizing was readily absorbed in the cotton market here today, and the buying became sensationally active late in the afternoon, when December contracts sold up to 11.23, and all deliveries made new high records for the season. The close was firm within a point or two of the best, with last prices showing net gains of from 21 to 37 points, near months being relatively strong.

The continued strength in Liverpool and the firm showing of southern spot markets yesterday encouraged bullish sentiment here at the opening and, after starting at unchanged prices to an advance of 3 points, the market sold 14 to 15 points net higher during the middle of the morning. The more favorable satisfactory international politics and predictions of a more satisfactory sterling exchange situation promoted the advance, but there was heavy profit-taking while there was also considerable Liverpool and New Orleans selling.

Local offerings for a reaction became more active toward midday, and the market turned easier with prices selling off 9 or 10 points from the best immediately following the publication of the generally favorable weekly weather report. This report, however, evidently failed to materially modify the bullish view of the crop outlook and offerings were readily taken around 10.61 for October and 11.13 for January.

Covering by early sellers helped the subsequent advance, which reflected a renewal of aggressive bull support and the continued activity of Wall street and commission buyers who have appeared to be influenced by reports of further advances in southern spot markets and apprehensions that the rain reports in the southwest might cause a further delay in picking. October contracts sold up to 10.88 and January to 11.38, or about $11.50 per bale above the low level of last summer, while July sold at 12.06.

New Orleans Rises 20 to 25 Points.

New Orleans, September 15.—Small crop estimates, sensational talk of crop damage and sharp rises in spots gave cotton decided strength today and advances were made into new high ground for the season. At the highest the most active months were 25 to 28 points over yesterday's final prices. The close was at a net gain of 20 to 25 points, the market retaining its strength in the face of much profit-taking by satisfied holders of long contracts. Spots registered an advance of 25 points, middling cotton being quoted at 10.25.

The market made its show of strength in the face of the favorable weekly crop and weather reports from the government. These, if anything, were even more favorable than the bears had been expecting as the result of the fair weather of last week, and did not point to the deterioration claimed by bullish traders. The effect of these reports was offset by private accounts, stating that the crop was still going back, and by extremely small crop estimates. One private estimate of under 3,000,000 bales for Texas and an estimate of 1,500,000 bales for Georgia, were reported. The continued strength of spot markets in the south and reports of heavy buying of actual cotton in a quiet way were important influences back of the rise.

Spot cotton steady, 25 points up. Sales on the spot, 9.50; to arrive, 3,375. Good ordinary, 8.24; strict good ordinary, 8.80; low middling, 9.43; strict low middling, 9.88; middling, 10.25; strict middling, 10.50; good middling, 10.82; strict good middling, 11.19. Receipts, 4,484; stock, 115,742.

WEEKLY COTTON CROP WEATHER BULLETIN

Washington, September 15.—The national weather and crop bulletin today says:

"The change from the cool weather of the preceding week to the hot and dry weather of the week just ended was generally beneficial to cotton. Especially in the northern districts, where the late crop made rapid advancement, and in the eastern and central districts, where the bolls opened rapidly and picking became general and made good progress. In Texas the crop appears not to have responded so promptly to the more favorable conditions. Damage by the boll weevil is increasing and the outlook for a fair top crop is poor. The crop in Oklahoma appears to have responded to the better weather and is now reported as doing well and improvement is noted in Arkansas."

WAR STOCKS ALONE HOLD OWN IN STREET

In War Group Even United States Steel Sags—Washington Interference With Loan to Allies Feared.

New York, September 15.—Eliminating the war specialties and several of the low-priced railways, like Erie and Rock Island, today's market was dull to the verge of absolute stagnation. Even United States Steel failed to hold its wonted leadership, falling behind Allis-Chambers, Crucible Steel and a few other industrials of far less prominence.

Erie and Rock Island pursued contrary courses, the former showing increased strength on reported further accumulation of the preferred shares, while the latter became heavy on news that the federal court had ordered that suits for restitution be instituted against some of the former and present members of the board. Minneapolis and St. Louis issues declined abruptly later, the common declining 4 to 8, the preferred 6 to 24 and the refunding 4s 4 to 24. Their fall was associated with the serious illness of the company's president.

Investment railways moved narrowly, fluctuations rarely exceeding minor fractions until the final hour, when Reading fell to 149⅛, its lowest quotation of the day, and other standard stocks denoted recurrent pressure. Sharles of the Long Island railroad, a Pennsylvania subsidiary, were prominent for their strength, advancing 6 to 49 points.

New high records for the war shares were once more in order, even though their further advance was without favorable effect elsewhere. Bethlehem Steel rose a point to 350, Crucible Steel 1½ to 96⅝, and United States Alcohol 5¾ to 85¾. The uncertain trend of these shares was again indicated by some net losses at the close. International credits and the status of affairs with Germany entered into the calculations of the trading element and doubtless were responsible for the dullness and superficial character of the day's operations. Rumors to the effect that Washington might enter an objection to the proposed Anglo-French loan caused renewed discussion of this problem.

Exchange on London was dull but steady, with fewer offerings of continental bills. In fact, exchange markets today may be said to be marking time, pending a definite outcome of current negotiations.

Trading in bonds lacked especial feature, aside from the steady tone. Total sales, par value, aggregated $2,445,000. United States bonds were unchanged

DID HE SWEAR? LISTEN.

In the town of Winchester, Va., my worthy uncle, who was a Sunday school superintendent, planned to build a Paper Mill—first selected an ideal location, built the dam by

THE MILL SITE.

The money situation got tight as wax, so everything stopped and he jokingly remarked he had a Dam by a Mill Site, but did not have a Mill by a DAM SITE.

Now this was before the days of The Bulletins, and nobody called him down publicly for being so wicked. The Moral of this story is this:

The Mill was built and made money for everyone connected with it.

The object of this story is to interest you in my plans for an

APARTMENT HOUSE IN COLUMBIA, S. C.
"THE CITY OF OPPORTUNITY."

Come over and have a look at my ambitious plans, which only need one who knows how to finance the proposition—it's a money-maker and WILL PAY YOU TO INVESTIGATE. I was three years in getting this land together and went broke doing so. Got it in good shape before I realized I had to turn it over to someone "who knew how to do things."

I will take pleasure in showing you how convenient the land is located to everything desirable in a city.

PLEASE DON'T DO IT

PLEASE DON'T get the mistaken idea that MY bungalows are the same as the SO-CALLED bungalows you see so much of—in Atlanta. They are not built on stilts and underpinned with boards, but on solid brick and stone foundations; the rooms are not sweat boxes; every room has from 2 to 6 windows, screened from top to bottom; shingles are the best red cedar; the cornice projects from 3 to 4 feet—not just 10 inches; the paint is the best lead and oil—not 15c-a-gallon stain; main floors are hardwood; all floors are scraped and polished; solid, brass-trimmed Yale hardware; the outlines are STUDIED with an eye to BEAUTY and UNIFORMITY. Please remember that these bungalows are the SAME KIND you pay $4,500 to $5,500 for in sections that are no BETTER—often not as GOOD as Decatur—on Ponce de Leon Place. My price, $3,750 to $4,000; terms like RENT. P. B. Hopkins, Empire Bldg.

IT'S EVIL CONSPIRACY, DECLARES DR. HEXAMER

Philadelphia, September 15.—Dr. Charles J. Hexamer, president of the National German-American Alliance, today sent out an appeal to all parts of the country urging that a protest be made against the proposed flotation in America of a large loan to the entente allies. The appeal declares that "the Anglo-American combination of money interests, supported by a large part of the Anglo-American press, is bent upon driving our peaceful nation into the war as an ally of England," and adds:

"The prime movers of the allied Anglo-American money interests are now alone actually engaged in formulating the nefarious plot of robbing the American people of their savings. They want to aid England and to enable her to continue the war which she is now waging to retain the mastery of the seas and to control the commerce of all the world for all times.

"I call upon all patriotic American citizens to pass resolutions in every American society or association expressing their abhorrence of this unpatriotic and pro-British scheme and to earnestly appeal to the president of the United States and the secretary of state to thwart this evil conspiracy; a conspiracy which would rob the American people of the money wherewith it can alone develop the natural resources of our land, increase our industries and extend our own means of internal transportation and aid our agriculture.

"I call upon every true American to write to every financial institution in which he has deposited money, protesting against the use of his money for the proposed Anglo-French $1,000,000,000 loan."

The appeal was sent to members of every branch of the alliance throughout the country.

SUCCESS PREDICTED FOR BILLION LOAN

turned over to the police for investigation, it is said, and New York city detectives are now reported to be engaged in seeking the writers.

The commissioners do not visit the financial section in a body or even in couples. Each commissioner travels through the streets unaccompanied by any other commissioner. At least one detective is at the heels of each commissioner in his trips about the city and in some cases, it is said, there are several.

Runs on Banks Threatened.

Whether this active opposition is sporadic in its nature, or is organized, is not known. Bankers and other callers at the headquarters of the commission have expressed the view, gleaned from their talks with the commissioners, that the opinion of the commissioners themselves is that it is of an organized nature.

Other forms of the opposition to the flotation of the big loan, according to word received by the commission, have been evidenced in widespread threats by German-American depositories that participation by the banks in which they have their funds would be followed by withdrawals.

In the case of savings banks, the commission heard, organized withdrawals of funds approaching the magnitude of runs on the banks, were contemplated.

Basil Blackett, secretary of the commission, in his talk today with newspaper men, declined positively to touch upon this subject, but confined his remarks to the general situation. He was of the opinion that any loan to be placed here should be open to participation of the entire public, pro-German and pro-ally, alike in sentiment.

Dernburg's Men at Work.

Some of the German agents opposing the loan, the Anglo-French commission was informed, were known as men who had furthered the spread of the German propaganda during the presence in this country of Dr. Bernhard Dernburg. Who furnished the finances to maintain these agents was a matter which aroused the interest of the commissioners.

The movement, from what the commission heard, had its origin in the east and its greatest activity in the middle west, especially in the large cities where the pro-German element is considerable in numbers. Although not so manifest here in New York as elsewhere, it was said, the plan is by no means inactive in this city. This was evidenced, according to reliable reports, by a flood of protests made by German sympathizers to some of the largest banks here, voicing in terms so alike that their inspiration was believed to have had a common source, their indignation that the bank in question should even consider lending money to Germany's enemies.

Veiled threats, it was reported, have often accomplished the protests and certain institutions here now planning to participate in floating the loan are already estimating the extent of the losses in deposits which they believe will surely follow when the big loan is floated, if at all. A notable exception to this flood of protests is the National City bank, in which J. P. Morgan & Co., the Anglo-French financial agent in the United States, is said to be heavily interested. Only one depositor has protested, it was said, and he was promptly told that the bank's officers probably knew more about conducting the institution's affairs than he did.

United States Prosperity Involved.

Officials of some of Wall street's big financial institutions heretofore classed as pro-German have no sympathy with these attacks, it is known, and are said to be in a receptive mood toward participating in the flotation of the loan. This group of bankers is quoted by a spokesman as believing that the prosperity of America is vitally involved in the commission's success, and as Americans they want to participate in aiding anything in reason that will result in a continuance of good times for the American exporter. From a purely selfish point of view, in addition, the business of these bankers would be much better, it is said, if the flood of exports is unchecked, than it would be otherwise."

LOAN LEGITIMATE, LANSING DECLARES.

Washington, September 15.—Secretary Lansing made it plain today that no violations of domestic or international law are involved in the proposed flotation by the allies of a big loan in this country.

The secretary explained that the government's attitude had been announced long ago; that its expression of disapproval of loans as "inconsistent with the spirit of neutrality" had been occasioned by a direct request for advice by American bankers concerning loans in general, and that the administration voiced its opposition chiefly to loans by popular subscription or those which would take large sums of gold from the United States.

So far as state department officials are able to observe, however, the new loan is essentially what is known as a "credit loan" to pay for obligations incurred or about to be incurred for the purchase of supplies. Such a loan is viewed as a private commercial transaction, not differing from the traffic in contraband or other war supplies, over which a neutral government is not obliged to exercise any control.

Only in the event that the matter is directly brought to the attention of the Washington government for advice is there likely to be any formal expression of opinion in the present instance.

Protests against the Anglo-French credit loan were received at the white house today in telegrams from various parts of the country. One man in Michigan wired that runs would be started on banks participating in the loan, and that panics would be precipitated. No indications of organized opposition, however, have been made apparent here, officials assert.

No protest or communication of any kind regarding the proposed loan has come from the German government, so far as can be learned, and the American government is said to have no present intention of interfering with the efforts of the Anglo-French banking commission.

One or two communications have reached the state department, the general tenor of which is severely critical of the plans of the commission as distinctly unneutral.

It was authoritatively declared that the department has no objection to what is known as credit loans, or transactions where the proceeds of the loan were to be used to defray purchases of goods made in the United States.

MORE BRITISH GOLD FOR UNITED STATES.

Bangor, Me., September 15.—Arrangements are being made by the railroads and an express company for transportation from Halifax to New York of the fourth consignment of gold and securities from London to strengthen the allies' war credits in this country. It is expected that a steel train will be sent to Halifax in a day or two.

The amount of this new consignment is not definitely known here, but it is said to be not far from $50,000,000.

CLEVELAND BANKS SHY AT THE LOAN.

Cleveland, Ohio, September 11.—Cleveland banks almost unanimously today declared they would not participate in the billion dollar loan to the allies. One bank posted notices to its depositors, saying it would have nothing to do with the loan.

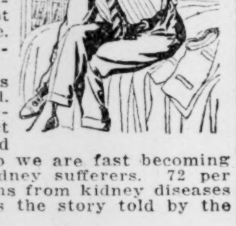
DR. HOWARD LEE JONES DIES IN SOUTH CAROLINA

Charleston, S. C., September 15.—The Rev. Dr. Howard Lee Jones president of Coker college, at Hartsville, S. C., died this morning at Florence, S. C., following a serious operation. He was formerly pastor of the Citadel Square Baptist church, of this city, for six years, and had served pastorates in New York city and Chattanooga, Tenn., among other places. He accepted the presidency of Coker college in June, 1914. Dr. Jones was widely known for his gifts of oratory. He was 42 years of age.

Lansing Meets Polk.

Washington, September 15.—Secretary Lansing today formally introduced to President Wilson Frank L. Polk, the new counsellor of the state department, who will act as secretary when Mr. Lansing goes on a short vacation next week. The two officials remained at the white house for nearly half an hour discussing the European and Mexican situations.

Why That Lame Back?



Every Picture Tells a Story

Morning lameness, sharp twinges when bending over, or a dull, all-day backache; each is cause enough to suspect kidney trouble. Get after the cause. Help the kidneys.

We Americans go it too hard. We overdo, overeat and neglect our sleep and exercise, and so we are fast becoming a nation of kidney sufferers. 72 per cent more deaths from kidney diseases than in 1890, is the story told by the 1910 census.

If annoyed with a bad back, nervous troubles and irregular kidney or bladder action, modify the bad habits, and use Doan's Kidney Pills. Thousands recommend them.

An Atlanta Case:

W. R. Johnson, carpenter, 168 Richardson St., says: "I had been troubled for several years by disordered kidneys. My back often ached and when I stooped, I had pains in my loins. The kidney secretions were too frequent in passage, breaking my rest at night. I noticed an improvement as soon as I had taken a few doses of Doan's Kidney Pills and before long, I was cured."

WHEN YOU DROOP IN THE MORNING

It Means an Afternoon Headache and an Evening of Misery.

There is no necessity for it. The morning droop means the afternoon headache, the evening of misery. It means inefficiency in the office or in the store—that you are worth less to yourself or your employer.

You know what causes that droop. If you don't, you ought to. It is injudicious eating or drinking or both; or it may come from irregularity of habit or lack of exercise. Any one of these may cause constipation and create toxic poisons, which attack and injure the vital organs.

Stop it now. You can do it and prevent it in future. When you get up in the morning take Jacobs' Liver Salt.

Just a small dose of it—one to two teaspoonfuls—in a generous glass of water. You will find it a bubbling, sparkling, pleasant drink, and you can go to work with a quick step and a keen, active mind; whereas,

If you take calomel, it will take you a day to get over it. There is a day lost in addition to the undermining effect of this dangerous and powerful drug which soon must have serious and deleterious effect upon the system.

Jacob's Liver Salt will do what most needs to be done, and in the most gentle and delightful way— no pain or griping. 25c, at Jacobs' and druggists generally. (Advt.)

ATLANTA'S STRIDES FROM DAY TO DAY

Building news was featured yesterday by the taking of a $400,000 building permit for the Candler warehouse, now being built on the 40-acre tract known as the Anthony Murphy tract, which lies on the south side of the city between the Central of Georgia and Southern railways.

The permit was taken in the name of the Atlanta Warehouse company, of which Asa G. Candler is president.

Arthur Tufts, architect, in charge of the building of the mammoth compress and warehouses, is working his forces overtime to complete the building, which will be of concretete, by October 10.

It is understood that contracts for 80,000 bales of cotton have already been colsed by the Candler Warehouse company. The first unit of warehouses will house 40,000 bales, necessitating work being begun on a second unit immediately on completion of the first.

The value of building permits for the first half of September is now $542,000, which is more than three times the entire building for September of last year.

Building Application.

The Coco-Cola company made application for permit Wednesday to build a three-story addition to its present building on Magnolia street. Arthur Tufts is the architect and builder, and the permit application is for $7,500.

The Industrial Life and Health Insurance company has bought from George W. Parrott a three-story and basement office building, which Mr. Parrott will erect on forty-four feet of frontage on Walton street near Spring. Permit will be taken next week for the building Mr. Parrott will build. The lot begins west of Spring street, being on the north side of Walton. It was originally owned by J. H. McCord, and was last sold to Charles Loridans for $31,500.

Mr. Parrott sells the lot and building for $65,000 cash.

The building will cost about $20,000, and will be finished on all sides with face brick. The entire building will be occupied by the insurance company as its home offices.

STRONG PEACE PLEA MADE BY JEROME JONES

Chattanooga, Tenn., September 15.—"Peace must prevail in this country until our very portals are assailed," declared President Jerome Jones, of Atlanta, in opening the fourth annual Southern Labor congress before 150 delegates from the various southern states this morning.

"War only aligns the laboring classes against the laboring classes, and I urge you never to let advocates of preparedness divert you from your ideals of peace."

He recommended affiliation of farmers' unions with organized labor, asked for an indorsement of compulsory education and urged that particular attention be given the problems of child labor and unemployment. The congress, which is attended by representatives of various international unions and the American Federation of Labor, will continue in session until Friday.

Various Forms Of Headache

"It is necessary in order to treat headaches properly to understand the causes which produce the affection" says Dr. J. W. Ray of Blockton, Ala. Continuing, he says: "Physicians cannot even begin the treatment of a disease without knowing what causes give rise to it, and we must remember that headache is to be treated according to the same rule. We must not only be particular to give a remedy intended to counteract the cause which produces the headache, but we must also give a remedy to relieve the pain until the cause of the trouble has been removed. To answer this purpose Anti-kamnia Tablets will be found a most convenient and satisfactory remedy. One tablet every one to three hours gives comfort and rest in the most severe cases of headache, neuralgia and particularly the headaches of women."

When we have a patient subject to regular attacks of sick headache, we should caution him to keep his bowels regular, for which nothing is better than "Actoids", and when he feels the least sign of an oncoming attack, he should take two A-K Tablets. Such patients should always be instructed to carry a few Anti-kamnia Tablets, so as to have them ready for instant use. These tablets are prompt in action, and can be depended on to produce relief in a very few minutes. Ask for A-K Tablets.
